Sees Negro Deprived of Farm Help

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick, (D-Ellenville), will take a personal look at alleged discrimination in federal agriculture programs in Mississippi today at the request of the Feedom Democratic Party, the civil rights group challenging white domination of the Democratic Party in Mississippi.

Resnick, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, flew into Jackson, Miss. Monday. He began his schedule today in an 8:30 a. m. meeting with the State Executive Committee of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, and then addressed an audience at Tougaloo College, Jackson, at 11 a. m. In the afternoon he will tour Madison County, Mass., and attend a mass rally that night.

Firsthand Look

The purpose of his trip, Resnick says, "is to take a firsthand look at the situation. I have received letters describing the difficulty of Negro farmers in obtaining information on federal programs, and in participating in the election of members of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

"One of the major complaints made by the Negro farmers," Resnick said, "is that information about programs and services of the Department of Agriculture never reaches the Negro community.

"The material itself is prepared in such a way that even well educated persons have difficulty understanding them. I am told that the County Extension agents do not make an effort to advise the Negro farmers of federal programs and that the burden of providing this information has fallen on the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party.

"An example of this is the recent provision for the Commodity Credit Corporation to provide funds for storage bins for commodities.

Cites Elections

"A second complaint is in the fair conduct of the ASCS elections. The burden of proof of eligiblity to vote is placed on the farmer, which places a hardship on the sharecropper. The

Milton Woman Named To Highland Board

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Hope Featherstone of Milton, Ulster County, was appointed by Gov. Rockefeler today to the Board of Visitors to the Highland State Training School for Boys.

She succeeds Dr. Herbert Schwartz of Kingston, whose term expired. The post is unsalaried.

List Prominent Names For Key Board Jobs

Joseph Martorana, Town of Plattekill Republican supervisor and a former deputy clerk of the Board of Supervisors, today announced he would support Town of Saugerties veteran Supervisor Peter M. Williams for chairman of the board in 1966. Williams has represented the Town of Saugerties for 16 years on the board and has also served as chairman of the board.

The Supervisors, meanwhile, are scheduled to meet in a special session tonight at the County Building with action on the public defender law as the topic of business.

Pointing out that Supervisor Williams is a veteran on the board, has served as chairman and was a contender for the post last time, Martorana said he would support Williams if there is a move to replace Chairman Robert Phinney, 11th Ward Republican, who has been a member of the board since 1934.

Race Wide Open

In Republican circles many supervisors report the choice a "wide open" issue at present with several contenders.

It is reported that among those who are in a receptive mood are Republican Supervisor Peter J. Savago of New Paltz; Hurley Republican and former chairman of the board Charles Relyea, and Majority Leader James A. Rapp (R), First Ward, as well as Supervisor Williams.

Sentiment among county supervisors is that a county member should serve as chairman rather than a city supervisor.

However until the organizational meeting shortly after the first of the new year when the newly elected supervisors are seated, the selection of chairman appears to be very much "up in the air" as one prominent member of the board stated.

Should Majority Leader Rapp be elevated to the chairmanship a selection for majority leader must be made. Among those being mentioned for that position is Supervisor Roy Webber (R), Marbletown, who succeeded the late Harry Snyder. Supervisor Webber heads Community College Committee.

Mabie Heads List

There will be a new minority leader come January 1966. Minority Leader John C. Quimby, Marlboro Democrat, was not a candidate to succeed himself and among those being mentioned for minority leader is Supervisor Roger W. Mabie, Town of Esopus Democrat, who was re-elected to office last November.

In commenting on his support of Supervisor Williams for chairman, Martorana said:

"If the county Republican leaders are planning to replace Supervisor Phinney as chairman of the board, my first choice for chairman is Peter Williams. The chairmanship should deservedly go to Saugerties Supervisor Peter Williams, a veteran of 16 years on the board."

In making known his support for Williams, Martorana noted that last year Williams was the choice of all the Republicans but two. Now in the event of a change, Martorana contends that "fairness, loyalty and honesty dictates that Williams should be the first to be asked."

Continuing further in the behind the scene talk for a new chairman, Martorana stated the

Describe Air War Lacking in Viet-- Even Some Failure

EDITOR'S NOTE — A lot of bombs have fallen on North Viet Nam since the United States began raiding selected targets in the Communist country. Has it deterred Hanoi's infiltration of the South. How does it weigh in the scale of the Viet Nam war? AN AP reporter presents a comprehensive balance sheet in the following article.

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the basis of Pentagon-stated objectives, the U.S. air war against North Viet Nam is far from a success after nearly 10 months.

Based on the same announced goals, there are some elements of failure.

Stronger Than Ever

These views are the consensus in discussions with a wide range of qualified sources within and outside the U.S. government, and are supported in a study of other information available from the government.

A main objective of the bombings, which began last Feb. 7, was to cut down the flow of North Vietnamese soldiers and supplies into South Viet Nam.

The evidence, chiefly the government's own figures, shows that despite heavy battle losses Communist forces in South Viet Nam are stronger in numbers than ever before. And U.S. officials believe the enemy has the capability of moving up to four more divisions into South Viet Nam over the next six months.

Another major announced goal of the bombing was to prod the North Vietnmese into halting their support of the Red aggresssion in the South. Hanoi's chiefs seem more defiant than ever.

More Sorties, More Losses

Indications point to intensified U.S. bombing in the North around the clock.

This probably will mean a marked rise in the number of jet combat sorties, now averaging about 600 a week.

It also undoubtedly will mean more U.S. air losses. So far, 149 U.S. planes have been downed.

The bombing targets are likely to remain essentially the same — mostly bridges, roads, railroads and ferries along the lines of communication leading through North Viet Nam.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara almost certainly would dispute any conclusion that the limited air war has been a failure.

Authorities reflecting his views contend that if it were not for the bombings, infiltration of

Soldiers Report Good Treatment By Cong Captors

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Two American soldiers released by the Viet Cong said today they had been well treated during their two years of captivity.

Spec. 5 Claude E. McClure, 25, of Chattanooga, Tenn., said his captors cared for his wounds, shared their food with him and allowed him mail from his family and Red Cross packages.

Linked to Protests

Sgt. George E. Smith of Chester, W. Va., said he believed his liberation was "the direct result of protests in America against U.S. involvement in the Viet Nam war."

The Viet Cong in announcing their release Saturday said they were being freed to show good will toward Americans opposing the war.

The two soldiers appeared at a news conference arranged by the Cambodian information minister. They had crossed the border after their release and were

India Doubts Major China Attack Despite Probing

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Communist Chinese troops are probing south all along India's Himalayan frontier. Some Indian blood is being spilled.

Peking is flooding New Delhi with protest notes charging India with provocations and warlike activity.

Two Theories Advanced

Why this Chinese war of nerves? Two theories are popular in government circles:

—The Chinese, frustrated by a lack of success in Africa and Southeast Asia, are hardening their stance from India to Korea so as to exploit every opportunity to cause trouble, especially for the United States.

—The Chinese intend to give moral support to Pakistan in its conflict with India and at the same time create "irritations" and conflicting claims that could be propaganda preparation for renewed hostilities against India.

New Delhi doesn't expect a major Chinese attack soon, however.

One of Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's top Chinese experts points out that the winter snows have closed the mountain passes leading south from Chinese-held Tibet to the Indian plains.

Neither do Indian experts expect a major Chinese intervention in the Viet Nam war or a trial of strength elsewhere against American armed might.

The Chinese for the moment seem willing to let the Vietnamese take the punishment inherent in tangling with the Americans, these experts say.

No such inhibitions are evi-

Heads St. Joseph's $400,000 Fund Drive for New Church

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. Reilly officially announced today that a new church for St. Joseph's parish will be built. Howard L. Fox was designated as general chairman for the fund drive which has set a goal of $400,000.

The new church, due to be completed in 1968, will replace a structure which is 133 years old. Present plans call for architect's drawings to be submitted within the next several weeks, and the razing of the old church which will probably begin sometime next year. During the construction period, St. Joseph's school hall will be used for Sunday services. It is hoped that the church will be completed by 1968 since this will be the centennial year for St. Joseph's. The building, which was originally a New York State Armory, was first dedicated as a church in 1868.

Fox has been active in church affairs for many years serving as a past president of the St. Joseph's Holy Name Society, and as a past Grand Knight of the Fox announced that a training and assignment meeting will be held Wednesday night in the school hall. At that time the drive will officially get underway concentrating on the Memorial Gift phase of the drive between Dec. 1 and Dec. 23. All workers have been asked to attend.

Group to Study Uptown Traffic During Weekend

A study of proposed resumption of two-way traffic on Wall Street from North Front to Franklin Street is due to be made over next weekend by the Common Council's traffic committee.

Mayor - Elect Raymond W. Garraghan has suggested that a survey be made by the committee to determine if the change from one-way traffic over the length of the street will be beneficial to traffic flow in the uptown area.

The committee is headed by Robert C. Schantz (R) Second Ward, and its other members are William G. Davis (D-Lib.) 13th Ward and John J. Naccarato (R) Third Ward.

It will make a survey of traffic flow during the busiest hours and another during slack hours, and will report its recommendations after the study.

Militiamen Hit By Guerrillas

Enterprise Leaves To Join 7th Fleet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong returned to the attack today after a brief lull in heavy ground fighting during Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's latest inspection of the war zone.

Buildup Appears Certain

Another major buildup of U.S. and South Vietnamese forces seemed certain in the wake of McNamara's visit. He left for Guam Monday night with a warning that Communist North Viet Nam had clearly decided to escalate the conflict. He forecast a long war.

Within hours of McNamara's departure, the 85,000-ton nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise left the Philippines to join units of the U.S. 7th Fleet operating against the Communists in Viet Nam. The "Big E," the world's largest carrier, was escorted on her first combat mission by the guided-missile frigate Bainbridge, also nuclear-powered.

In South Viet Nam's central highlands, a guerrilla battalion apparently overwhelmed 200 government militiamen 15 miles east of An Khe, headquarters of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division. McNamara visited the American encampment Monday.

No Yanks in Action

The fight took place along the Mang River, about 200 miles northeast of Saigon. A government company went to the rescue of the beleaguered militiamen, radioed it had taken moderate casualties, and then went off the air, U.S. spokesmen said. No American troops took part.

About 200 guerrillas attacked a Vietnamese Special Forces camp and a nearby militia post 90 miles southwest of Saigon, near the Cambodian border in Phong Dinh Province. The Communists fired recoilless rifles and mortars for almost five hours, U.S. spokesmen reported 15 Viet Cong dead and light government casualties, but no U.S. dead or wounded.

Red Release 24

A few miles away the Communists released 24 captured government soldiers in what Saigon spokesman called a periodic move to undermine government morale. Vietnamese military commanders fear these releases may encourage their troops to surrender rather than fight.

However, in the bitter fighting northwest of Saigon on Saturday, the Viet Cong machinegunned a number of Vietnamese troops who tried to surrender.

The air war continued over the skies of North and South Viet Nam.

Planes Are Busy

U. S. spokesmen said Air Force and Navy jets battered bridges, highways and suspected troop concentrations in the

See Luck Playing Part In Double Gemini Shot

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The experts will hand half the credit to Lady Luck if Gemini 7 and 6 can be launched in a brief enough time span to permit rendezvous in space.

"If we can get them both off the ground," however, said flight director Christopher Kraft, "the odds of achieving rendezvous are high."

Have Even Chance

Air Force Lt. Col. Jack Albert, launch director in charge of the Titan 2 booster rockets, said Gemini 6 astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford have a 50-50 chance to soar into space in time to catch the orbiting Gemini 7 crew, Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr.

Borman and Lovell are to lift off at 2:30 p.m. (EST) Saturday on a marathon two-week flight. Schirra and Stafford are to blast off from the same launch complex, nine days later, on Dec. 13.

"Unquestionably, we're going to have to have a lot going for us" during those nine days, Kraft said.

There is only one launch pad equipped for Gemini at Cape Kennedy. Teams must clean up the launch area after Borman and Lovell take off, erect another Titan 2 and spacecraft and check out all the systems. Normally, this takes 29 days.

3 Factors Involved

"We've got a good chance of doing it," said Kraft. "There are three factors involved: How well the spacecraft 7 operates, How well we do with the checkout of the Gemini 6 space and launch vehicle, and the weather.

"If you run into an area where you've got to do extra testing' then you might have a problem. We don't want to launch Gemini 6 unless we're absolutely convinced we've done everything humanly possible to have everything right."

He said the Gemini 6 launch could be delayed up to 12 or 13 days after Gemini 7 blasts off, if Gemini 7 is functioning properly.

Johnson Is Given Telephone Report On Viet Mission

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson got a telephone report from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara today on his mission to South Viet Nam, and arranged for a personal conference with him later in the week.

Joseph Laitin, assistant White House press secretary, said there is no definite time or place for the meeting.

Johnson also has arranged for a meeting later in the week with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Laitin said the conference with Rusk, like that with McNamara, will be held either in Washington or at the LBJ Ranch. Indications pointed to the ranch.

Laitin said Johnson, up early again today, planned to spend most of the day at his desk going over reports from Cabinet members on a variety of matters.

Among other things, Johnson approved a one-stop plan for government job seekers, which he said would make it easier to attract capable people.

Light Snow Dots County, 16-Inch Fall in Upstate

Skiing enthusiasts kept looking skyward today in hopes that a hefty snowfall would supply a base for area mountain slopes and trails.

The average person probably took just the opposite attitude.

At any rate, no appreci ble snow fell in the Kingston area although some areas reported slippery highways due to precipitation and higher mountains took on a white look.

Upstate meanwhile, came in for its second snowstorm, the Associated Press reported.

Snow covered the ground in most of the Upstate area early today in the wake of storms that dumped up to 16 inches in some sections.

The U. S. weather picture was one of cold and snow.

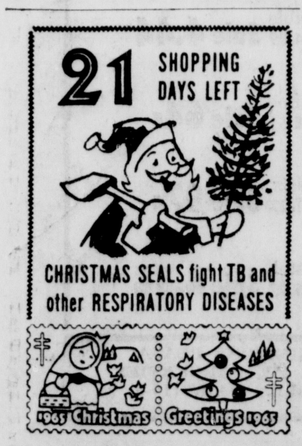

A late-autumn cold snap gripped the mid-continent and sent a sharp chill deep into the Southland.

The city engineer's office reported that barring any late afternoon or evening snowfall, November would remain consistent with past seasons in lack of snowfall. The office said that there was no snow recorded in the city during the month last year or in 1963, although an inch of snowfall was recorded Nov. 18, 1962.

Last year's "big" snowstorm struck Dec. 20, when 3½ inches plopped into the area. By January, four inches of the white stuff had blanketed Kingston.

Sees World Stage Cleared For Ascent of New Leaders

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is intermission time on the world stage.

For most of this century a succession of colorful men dominated the mind and imagination of the world. Most are dead or retired now. The rest of this century will have to manufacture new men to take their place.

Some Loudmouths

There were loudmouths among those giants of the past, and actors, orators, fanatics and true world leaders, whether they were loved or hated.

Of them all only two still have top billing: Red China's Mao Tze-tung, and French President Charles de Gaulle. A few others from the past are still in the show but have quieted down from age or circumstance.

At 72 Mao has become a shadowy figure, hardly seen, more a legend than a man. He says little the world hears. He was never colorful. It is hard to know anymore what his real role is.

DeGaulle, always the actor, is still colorful even if he says nothing and points his nose in the air. At 75 he seems certain of a new seven-year term as president. But his dominance is limited mostly to France and Western Europe.

Handled Domestic Problems

President Johnson, a newcomer to the world scene, has concentrated on his domestic problems and stayed pretty much off the international stage. So it would be straining to say he is a dominant world figure, capturing men's minds.

President John F. Kennedy was the opposite. He was a newcomer, too, but, while he was no smash-hit in getting Congress to do what he wanted, he plunged into the international act early.

The result: in the less than three years of his presidency he was a famous and generally admired figure around the world.

For example: Before he was six months in office he had visited De Gaulle, dined with the queen of England, had a summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Vienna, and then had a crisis over the Berlin wall.

Fairly Quiet

Other figures from the past, although still in power, say few lines anymore: Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser, Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito, and Indonesia's President Sukarno, very rambunctious until his home-grown Communists recently tried to take the play away from him.

Chiang Kai-shek is still head man on Formosa but in his more than 35 years before the world audience he was never colorful, never said much.

Nothing shows the contrast between past and present more than the Khrushchev case. Bounced over a year ago, he is now in obscurity. Probably not one American in 1,000 could name his successors, much less spell their names.

Yet Khrushchev, one of history's greatest actor-loudmouths, was also one of the most fascinating figures of the century. In recent days Red China and the Soviet Union moved closer to a fatal split. They exchanged long invectives.

But the leaders said nothing in their own names. What they said sounded like a dialogue between pedantic philosophers.

Not one figure on the scene today, except perhaps for Mao and De Gaulle, is known to the world audience or entrances it like Churchill, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson, Harry S. Truman, Lenin, Stalin, Trotsky, Hitler, Mussolini, Eisenhower, Nehru, Gandhi.

Tax Forms Go To Albany PO

ALBANY—State Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy announced today that the first of nearly 6.5 million New York State personal income tax forms have been sent to the Post Office in Albany for delivery to taxpayers.

The first pre-addressed consignment of 1.5 million state resident tax packets, IT-201-P were delivered to the Post Offic today, and the remainder of an estimated 4.9 million of this state "long form" packet will be delivered to the Post Office shortly after mid-December. Because of the anticipated volume of Christmas mail, the post office is expected to make personal delivery of the forms by January 1, Murphy said.

The IT-201 packet contains copies of the State IT-201 "long form," the Declaration of Estimated Tax Form IT-2105, instructions for their use, and a return envelope.

An estimated 1.5 million state card form returns, IT-200, and instructions for their use will be in the hands of taxpayers before January 15. The first IT-200 forms will be delivered to the post office by Dec. 10.

Majority of Job Corps Return for Holidays

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Job Corps expects about 80 per cent of its 16,000 members to spend this Christmas at home, with the government paying round-trip travel expenses.

A corps official said all corpsmen are entitled to transportation-paid home leave after six months service, and that this period will coincide with the holiday season for about half the membership.

Members with less than the required length of service have been offered advanced home leave over the holiday season, the official said, with the understanding that they will forego the time off after six months duty.

SHOP AND MAIL EARLY

There are many sound reasons for shopping and mailing early this holiday season and here are a few of them:

You avoid the last minute crush at the stores and at the post office. The choice of merchandise is in greater abundance and the service is faster.

When not pressured for time you thoroughly enjoy the holiday spirit of shopping for your family and your friends in the many merchandizing facilities in this community.

These are very sound reasons, but more important, we believe, is the consideration shown the clerks in the stores and the postal employes. If shopping and mailing are spread over several weeks rather than the final days before Christmas, life will be much happier for the store worker and the postal worker.

People preparing for the holiday mailing season should be sure to obtain boxes, tape, wrapping materials and other shipping materials.

Postmaster Newkirk advises the use of first class postage on greeting cards. This assures being forwarded if the recipient has moved or that undeliverable cards will be returned if a return address is on the envelope. Be sure to use your Zip Code in your return address.

The postmaster also emphasizes that poorly wrapped and loosely packed cartons are the major cause of parcel post damage. He urges that cartons be packed tightly by using stuffing material to fill up the empty space around the merchandise.

He also asks that all mailers make an effort to address their letters, cards and packages as clearly as possible. Residents should mail often and not wait until the last minute to deposit all their gifts and greetings.

Princess Margaret steals the show from Hollywood stars in Los Angeles. But then none of them has the entire British people for a supporting cast.

Sukarno says trying to crush Indonesia's Reds would be like biting iron. He knows about that, having been forced to bite the bullet as the army seized power.

HANOI'S ATTITUDES

Dispatches from Toyko indicate that President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam has reiterated demands made by the Vietcong's political arm last March as a necessary pre-condition to peace talks. These demands include the withdrawal of U. S. troops, material and bases from South Vietnam.

Taken at face value, this report appears to rule out any possibility that the Vietnam issue can be brought to the conference table in the near future. Peace efforts allegedly being made—by Romania, for example—appear to be stymied by the Hanoi regime's intransigence.

It is encouraging to note that appearances may be deceptive. With this in mind, one would be foolish to assume that Ho's reported position knocks out any hope for an end to the fighting and a start toward negotiated settlement.

What was reported by the New China News Agency was that Ho Chi Minh had restated the National Liberation Front demands in a letter to Dr. Linus Pauling of the United States. This was in response to a letter from Pauling and other Nobel prize laureates urging heads of governments involved in the Vietnam war to seek a negotiated settlement. Though Ho's reply was publicized, it was made to a private citizen and thus does not carry the weight of a diplomatic communication.

This may be regarded as rather a slim straw to grasp. But it is possible that Hanoi's attitudes behind the scenes are less firm and less belligerent than those Ho set forth in his letter to Pauling. Recent disclosures about peace feelers, notably the one in which Secretary General U Thant played a part, suggest that Hanoi may be more anxious for talks than the Pauling letter indicates. Certainly the letter should not be taken as a signal to give up hope of negotiation.

King Frederick of Denmark goes hunting and the bag is four foxes, one deer, six hares — and a cat. Well, there probably just weren't any cows or horses around.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

KEEPING WELFARIST COMPETITION ALIVE

In England, where the Welfare State is well-entrenched, the whole effort of old-fashioned liberals is directed to the elaboration of ways and means of establishing competitive alternatives to government monopoly. The notion behind this is that it doesn't much matter who runs things provided he has someone breathing down his neck to keep his operation from bogging down into bureaucratic callousness and sloth.

Since the United States is only now beginning to embark on a big federalization of welfare services, there hasn't been much time to contemplate the danger of turning such things as housing, education and medical care over to government monopoly control. But, unlike the British, who had to have their noses rubbed in government monopolization before they began to wake up, we have an opportunity to be forehanded about insuring that competition between public and private organizations shall always prevail.

Fortunately, some V.I.P.'s have been thinking about the problem. In New York City the cost of higher education is causing a ruckus about tuition fees in public institutions. And New York State politicos, listening to the clamor for more college facilities, are talking about bigger and better State university facilities. All of which, of course, would help to build up a State monopoly of education.

Nobody can stop this trend in this age of terrifying high construction costs. But there could be ways of mitigating it. As this column is being written, Dr. James Hester, the President of New York University, is preparing to go before the Joint Legislative Committee on Higher Education in New York with a well-considered proposal for what he calls a "mixed economy" in education. Dr. Hester heads a private institution of 13,000 undergraduates and 16,200 graduate students that is dependent on tuition fees, gifts and private endowment. In the rush to build up public educational institutions he could very well find himself behind the eight-ball in trying to keep his university on an even keel. So his proposal centers on ways of putting the State behind certain services of New York University that will save the taxpayers money and still enable government to solve its problems of providing educational opportunity for the masses.

New York University may be private, but it is already deeply implicated in the public problems of New York City. For example, its dental school, which runs at a $300,000 annual deficit, provides one-half of the dentists who practise in New York City and a third of the dentists in business throughout the State. The dental school helps people in the city of New York directly by taking six hundred patients a day. Dr. Hester thinks it would be much more intelligent if government, instead of starting new public dental schools from scratch, would undertake to subsidize an enlargement of the existing New York University dental school facilities to take care of the need for more dentists. In the state of Pennsylvania this sort of thing is already being done, at considerable saving to the local tax payers. Since the New York University dental school is already serving the public by providing free clinic work, subsidization would, in reality, be a payment for services already rendered. Moreover, it would help keep a private institution alive to provide competition with the public dental schools of the future.

The New York University medical school, one of the best in the nation, already provides some three-fourths of the services required to run New York City's Bellevue Hospital. Public support of the medical school, then, would be in the nature of recognizing a public service that is already being rendered. From the taxpayers' point of view, so Dr. Hester says, it would make more sense for government to help enlarge the New York University medical school than it would to start something entirely new.

Dr. Hester's thinking may be anathema to strict free enterprisers. But Britishers who have seen what happens when government grabs a monopoly position in welfare services would applaud his foresight in trying to maintain a "mixed economy" position in American education.

Winter Itch May Appear In People With Dry Skin

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I have winter eczema. What is the best treatment for it?

A—Winter itch (not a true eczema) is frequently seen in persons whose skin is drier than normal. As we grow older there is a tendency for the skin to become drier. Although there is no cure, most victims get relief by avoiding hot baths. You should take sponge baths with cold water and little, or no, soap. If you do use soap, use a plain unscented brand and rinse it off thoroughly. After your bath, rub a thin layer of cold cream (lanolin, not cleansing cream) on your skin.

Use a humidifier in winter to keep the indoor air from becoming too dry. A little fog or frost on the windows is proof of sufficient moisture in the air.

Q—I am 60 years old. I am getting brown spots (my doctor calls them caritosis) on my hands and face. They look like freckles but they are thicker, like flat warts. How can I get rid of them? Will they become cancerous?

A—The brown, warty freckles that most people get after the age of 50 are known as senile keratoses. Sometimes they disappear spontaneously in one location only to show up in another. They are found, like juvenile freckles, on the exposed parts of the body and are best prevented by avoiding excessive sunshine, heat and dryness. Wear a wide-brimmed hat and walk on the shady side of the street. Keeping your skin soft with cold cream also helps to prevent them.

Although they rarely become cancerous, this is a possibility. For this reason, they should be watched at intervals by a physician. Freezing with carbon dioxide snow or exposure to X-rays will remove them. Some bleaching preparations for removing freckles are available but they are not completely without danger and should be used only on the advice of a physician.

Q—My 50-year-old uncle had a melanoma removed from his back. Three years later a malignant lump was found in his armpit. Is there any way to prevent these tumors?

A—The brown mole (not to be confused with senile freckles) is a common, and usually harmless, but it is from these moles that the rather rare malignant melanoma arises. All pigmented moles, even in infants should be seen at regular intervals by a physician. If there is the slightest suspicion of cancer a small specimen (biopsy) should be taken for microscopic examination. The results, when these cancers were removed completely before they had spread to deeper tissues, have been excellent.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

"You Got Any Scotch Tape?"

Washington News

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Whether or not Mayor-elect John Lindsay can succeed at his incredibly difficult new job may depend in part on how much help he can get from the city's top businessmen.

Much stress is being laid these days on probable troubles he faces in dealing with city Democrats in lesser but still fairly powerful offices, with the Johnson administration at the national level, and with Republican Gov. Nelson Rockefeller in Albany.

Very likely these these will all turn out to be real enough. Yet even if these "difficulties of cooperation" should somehow be held to a minimum (and federal monies should flow freely) there is some belief that New York needs more to get over the hump.

A TRADE ASSOCIATION executive with long experience in New York believes the city's problems will never be surmounted convincingly until business leaders pay attention to their city.

In his view, those leaders who do exhibit public spirit throw virtually all their energies into helping to finance and otherwise guide the national fortunes of the Republican party.

From the party's standpoint this kind of leadership assistance is obviously traditional. From New York's viewpoint, chronic might be a better word.

Even before they touch the political arena, the city's business chieftains are accustomed to operating on the national scale. They stand high in many of the country's biggest corporations. It is perhaps natural that they usually have thought in the same terms politically.

They have been in New York, but not of it. In a very real sense, their relationship to the city has not been unlike that of the diplomat in a foreign capital, enjoying "home-soil immunity."

The anonymous trade association official argues that the concentration of talent is so great in these New York based corporations that even if only a fair proportion of it can be enlisted, it will make a major dent on the city's problems and—best of all—help supply it with the kind of cohesive spirit it has seldom had.

WHAT THE ARGUMENT actually boils down to is that no major American city—and particularly New York—is going to make any consistent headway against any sizable part of its smothering load of problems unless it has an interested power structure.

Pittsburgh's gains in modernizing and cleaning itself up are generally credited to an aroused business leadership. Though Philadelphia has surely not solved its local employment problems, its top business echelons have applied themselves with unique diligence and imagination to this hard task.

San Francisco, Dallas and Atlanta are other cities where the business leadership is a progressive force more or less constantly felt.

Atlanta, small beside New York, is nevertheless an instructive model of a city literally governed by its power structure. More than a score of executives there are continuously dedicated to seeing that Atlanta moves.

Those leaders simply will do anything within their power to prevent developments which threaten the city's progress in the smallest way. Much of Atlanta's relative harmony on the racial front is ascribable to their efforts.

TO ASK NEW YORK'S sophisticated overlords to plunge into similar endeavors in behalf of their neglected city is clearly asking a very great deal.

Not only John Lindsay's future but the whole shaky cause of the Republican party in the troubled cities could hinge on whether or not they choose to give it a very earnest try.

Training Is Held Important In Advising U.S. President

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Arthur Schlesinger Jr. and Theodore Sorensen, who have written books about how the Presidency was conducted under the late John F. Kennedy, have performed a useful service. The intimate details of how important decisions were reached emphasize the lack of organization that surrounds the highest office in government. This is still characteristic of the White House under the Johnson administration.

No private business of any size would be permitted by the stockholders to function in the same haphazard way. Sooner or later, the American people, when they get all the facts, will insist that a system of responsible government be substituted for the present method whereby impromtu, spur-of-the-moment decisions are made on the advice of untrained persons in top posts in the government.

There's a better way, and the British government practices it. The bureaucrats have their say down the line, but the Cabinet consists of a group of men who sit in with the Prime Minister frequently to give him advice and counsel on every major decision.

The fact is that if ten of the most outstanding men in the United States were appointed to the Cabinet and divested of the duty of actually managing a particular department in all its detail and if permanent career officers were chosen to operate the departments, the Cabinet officers would be free to sit alongside the President and give their entire time to him. They would assist the Chief Executive every day not only in reaching decisions but in carrying them out. Each of the Cabinet officers would, of course, after being nominated by the President, have to be confirmed by the Senate in the same way as department heads now are appointed.

Today the White House assistants—and they all have a far-reaching influence in advising the President of the United States —are chosen by the Chief Executive, but they are not subject to confirmation by the Senate. Hence, they are not directly responsible to the people as is the case under the British system.

Messrs. Schlesinger and Sorensen have disclosed some details of what President Kennedy faced before the Cuban-missile crisis was brought to a head. At that time, it now is being revealed, the United States was the closest it has come to nuclear war.

In the end, a kind of compromise was made by which war was avoided. But Castro and the Communists were left implanted in Cuba, despite an explicit contradiction not only of the Monroe Doctrine but of the policies of other American Presidents.

The latest book by Arthur Schlesinger Jr., discloses that Mr. Kennedy was thinking of removing Secretary of State Rusk because, it is said, the latter followed the advice of the career officers in the Department of State. This is an old criticism and has been heard again and again in many administrations. Foreign Service officers who have served a long time and have been face-to-face with many a critical situation often are lambasted because they go back in history and point out the adverse consequences that may flow from hasty or ill-advised decisions.

There is nothing wrong, generally speaking, with bureaucratic advice in foreign policy. Persons inside the State Department are just as good Americans as those outside the department. Their judgment could be wrong on occasions, but the responsibility for reversing them must be upon persons who have carefully investigated all phases of the controversies that arise. This should not be done by men who have had no training or background in foreign affairs and who have been selected in a hurry by a new President of the United States when he takes office.

Too much emphasis is placed at the White House nowadays on political advice—as to what will be popular or unpopular — and too little thought is given to the long-range effects of the vital decisions that have to be made.

President Johnson does call to his Texas home every now and then some members of his Cabinet, but it is apparent that he does not have at his side constantly a Cabinet of ten persons who are thoroughly familiar with national and international problems. There have been occasional group meetings, but a regular procedure requiring council meetings at last three or four times a week between the Cabinet and the President is still not being put into effect.

Some day the errors and mistakes of the present system will come into full view, and the American people will demand a remedy.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

At the last election a new sheriff of 1966 has been elected. It is interesting to note, the county and city of Kingston which is so rapidly being changed in recent years had a sheriff going back to June 27, 1661 when Roeloff Swartwout was in charge during the Colonial times. In 1663 on Dec. 24, day before Christmas so it seems, Matthias Capito is listed. July 4, 1664 William Beekman was on the list. March 8, 1671 Isaac Greveraat is listed, which seems to show that the people were satisfied with Beekman for some seven years. The list goes on. Then I see June 14, 1702 a Thomas Noxon of Ulster and Dutchess. On Oct. 14, 1703 Cornelius Bogardus is also listed of both counties, and on Oct. 15, 1705 Thomas Noxon is back with a listing of Ulster and Dutchess. In 1709, Oct. 14, Johannas Hardenbergh also covered the two counties. There were many changes in the Colonial list as prepared from the rolls in the clerk's office, and were corrected by Dr. O'Callaghan, from the papers on file in the office of the Secretary of State at Albany. The names given are after the establishment of the State Government are taken from Dr. Hough's New York Civil List, so item explained, dated 1860.

In the olden days when they found someone they liked they kept him in office. I see Cornelius C. Schoonmaker of Shawangunk was chairman of the County Committee and was chosen a Member of Assembly nearly every year from 1777 to 1795. Mr. Schoonmaker was a surveyor by profession and occasionally tried his own real estate cases in the Supreme Court. He died in 1796. Marius Schoonmaker of Kingston was his grandson.

In many cases the patriots who fought for their conutry's rights were chosen to run the country. Col. Levi Pawling of Marbletown was the senior officer and commanded the handful of men who opposed the landing of the British at Esopus, Oct. 16, 1777 when the redcoats came to burn Kingston. He had been appointed Colonel of the Ulster County Militia, under the revolutionary government, his commission bearing the date Oct. 25, 1775. July 1776 he was ordered into active service at the Highlands.

The people had confidence in Col. Pawling. He was one of the three delegates to the Provincial Convention which met at the Exchange in New York in April, 1775 and was also of the Congresses of 1776 and 1777. The Convention appointed him first judge of the county, May 8, 1777 and this office he held during the remainder of his life. At the general election in 1777 he became a senator, and again in 1782 was chosen. Col. Pawling died in 1782. His son, Albert Pawling, was Brigade Major to Governor Clinton in the beginning of the war. It seems, it took brave men then to run the government and it certainly takes a strong minded person today.

It seems incredible that as education progresses, and schools grow larger and more costly like airplane hangars that crime increases among the students. First it was juvenile deliquents, then teenagers were blamed. Now it goes down to the little tots. Something is wrong somewhere. I see children twelve and thirteen are making local headlines in various crimes right in broad daylight in the uptown business sections, that I do not find in my old history books. The children would not have dared years back. What happened?

Bernstein Series Has Fine Charm

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS' "Young People's Concerts," now starting their ninth television season, may not be a barrel of laughs like "Beverly Hillbillies" or "Get Smart," but if young people — and some of the older ones as well — will sit down quietly and pay attention, they will find the series has a very special charm of its own.

Monday night, maestro Leonard Bernstein was once again busily moving from conductor's podium to piano as he explained musical forms in the clearest, simplest way possible before leading the New York Philharmonic through two symphonies which illustrated the evening lesson.

Bernstein's informal method of explaining music is a delight. At one point he was demonstrating musical intervals, inversions and the difference between melody and harmony. To illustrate a point he sang a few notes from "Help," a new Beatle song. And then moved right into a Brahms symphony.

One of the most fascinating hallmarks of the series is the way the camera pans over the audience, lingering on one young face and then another. It catches the unsuspecting children in poses ranging from deep absorption to restless wiggling.

If nothing else, the hour is a blessed relief from the frantic comedies, that infest the early evening network schedules so many nights a week.

Americans generally speaking, are better automobile drivers than citizens — or at least that was what CBS found in a survey made in connection with its "National Citizenship Test" broadcast a week ago.

The survey, on a national basis, found that among those who took its test on the rights and duties of citizenship and the working of government, only 5 per cent rated "excellent," and 14 per cent, "good." In last May's "National Drivers Test," 4 per cent were "excellent" and 21 per cent were "good." On the other end of the scale, however, 32 per cent were rated "poor" in the citizenship test, compared with 42 per cent in the drivers test.

Fails to Class Latin Americans Underdeveloped

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — South America has no "vast potential" as an underdeveloped area, a specialist on Latin American affairs said today.

William C. Paddock, head of Latin American Affairs for the National Academy of Sciences, challenged what he called "false ideas" on the American tropics.

Speaking at a conference on rural development of the tropics sponsored by the State College of Agriculture, Cornell University, Paddock added that Latin America is low in:

—minerals, especially coal and Iron.

— hydroelectric potential, despite a high rainfall rate.

—soil minerals needed for efficient agriculture.

He said that, coupled with these problems, the population of Latin America was expected to double in 20 years.

At present, he said, half of Latin America's 120 million people are under 15 years of age, but no one really knows how to make the area's resources meet the growing population challenge.

Named to College Council

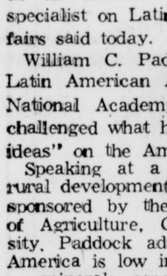

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—J. Vanderbilt Straub, senior partner in an Albany law firm, was named by Gov. Rockefeller today to the Council of the State University College at Albany.

The Republican governor named Straub to succeed Arthur Levitt Jr. of New York City in the unsalaried post. The latter's nine-year term has expired.

Levitt, the son of State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, was named to the council by Rockefeller's predecessor, Democrat Averell Harriman.

The Other Day

We read that the old saying, "Once in a blue moon," is based on actual infrequent occurrence. In 1950 thousands of people in Denmark and Scotland saw both a blue moon and a blue sun. It was caused by smoke high in the atmosphere from an uncontrolled forest fire raging in Alberta, Canada, 4,500 miles away. In 1880 volcanic dust from an eruption in the Ecuadorian Andes caused first a green disc, around the sun, then red, and finally blue. For TOP VALUES and service always instead of only once in a blue moon, come to us!

Hints From Heloise

by Heloise Cruse

Dear Heloise:

You and your famous nylon net...

Here's another idea:

Cut a big square of nyon net (one could use a piece in a triangle if they want single thickness net), fold it catty-corner, and use it for a head scarf! This is fabulous in the summer, as the net is not hot. It is not absorbant like cotton or silk scarves, so when it rains, the raindrops or mist catch on the net, thus eliminating the problem of drooping hair.

This net scarf may be folded up and put in your purse, and it never seems to wrinkle like the silk or cotton ones.

My daughter cut some squares of net, decorated them with cotton fringe bought at the dime store, and with the sewing machine, made head squares for all of her girl friends for Christmas!

These scarves make wonderful items to pile up in your surprise closet for showers, birthday presents, etc. They can be made in any delicate color, or white (especially pretty for brides).

The nylon net costs less than 15 cents for one scarf, as two-thirds of a yard will make three 24-inch squares, and I think every woman will love them.

Dear Heloise:

Many times, when I've been a house guest, I've left an article or two in the home I visited.

Naturally, this was an inconvenience to my hostess, as she had to take the time to package and mail the forgotten item to me.

Now, as I pack my bag, I list each item on a sheet of paper which I tape inside the lid of my suitcase.

When re-packing my bag, before returning home, I check off each item, as it goes back into the bag, and I haven't left anything behind—so far!

June Ames

That's a great idea!

It would also apply when visiting hotels or motels.

Dear Heloise:

My sewing machine cabinet looks like a Civil War relic, but the machine itself has a lot of miles left in it!

I made a shipcover for it, and hung a mirror behind it. Presto—a very attractive second dressing table in the bedroom.

Dear Heloise:

We keep our card table in the hall closet, and it was always flopping over or sliding to the floor.

My husband bought a curtain rod, and fastened it diagonally to the closet wall.

We just slip one corner of the card table up under the curtain rod, push the table back against the wall, and there it stays until we want to use it.

Mrs. R. C.

Dear Heloise:

I enjoy reading your column, so it's about time I contributed something.

When friends ask the name of my exotic-looking house plants, it's fun to explain that they are avocado trees raised from seeds.

Whenever I splurge on an avocado pear, I save the large, stone-type seed, and plant it in at least an eight-inch pot of soil mixed with peat moss or leaf mold.

The only trick is to keep it very moist. Covering the pot with a sheet of plastic wrap promotes a greenhouse atmosphere.

Pale Green Thumb

That's right up my alley! I grow them, too.

matter of fact

The first sea-going armor-clad warship, a forerunner of the battleship, was not the Monitor but the Gloire, a French ship which was built in 1858 and displaced more than 5,000 tons. Her hull was plated from stem to stern with iron almost five inches in thickness. She carried 36 guns. The Monitor, completed in the United States in 1862, carried two 11-inch guns in a revolving turret.

Cantor Lohre Is To Sing Dec. 1 At Middletown

Cantor Julian C. Lohre of Kingston has accepted an invitation from the Lyric Choristers, to sing a selection of Jewish songs at their concert to be given at Middletown State Hospital Wednesday night.

The Choristers have presented a program of Christmas and holiday music for the patients and staff at the hospital for the last four years. As Jewish people are naturally in the audience, it was thought that a special joy could be brought to them by including Jewish music in the evening's program.

The group will travel to Middletown by chartered bus Wednesday. Dr. Hyman Pleasure, director of the hospital, has warmly commended the Lyric Choristers for their thoughtfulness and generosity in giving their time to bringing such a wonderful program to the hospital, in cooperation with the Ulster County Association for Mental Health.

Doctor Training Aid

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller plans to submit to the legislature a plan under which the state will help finance physician-training.

The governor said the program eventually would increase by more than 100 a year the number of medical students in college, under terms of an agreement reached "in principle" with seven medical schools.

Both Channels Open

WELLAND, Ont. (AP)—Both Welland Canal channels of the St. Lawrence Seaway were open today to downbound traffic to help clear the Great Lakes of oceangoing vessels before the Seaway closes at midnight Friday.

Canal officials said Monday that 69 ships were enroute down the Seaway, but only three ships passed through the locks between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. because of blowing snow and poor visibility.

They added that upbound traffic was halted because only four upbound Great Lakes ships were waiting in Lake Ontario.

Courage Needed To Propose Tax, Rocky Declares

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller says it took courage for him to propose what he called the state's "fair and broa based" sales tax.

The Republican governor told 350 persons at a public meeting here Monday "somebody has got to have the courage" to find needed funds for state services.

He proposed the two cent levy to the 1965 Legislature, which enacted it to take effect Aug. 1.

The governor said voters reelected 15 Republicans who voted for the sales tax, while many Democrats who opposed it were defeated.

Rockefeller plans to visit Utica Wednesday on his state-wide tour to sound public opinion before presenting his message to the Legislature, which convenes Jan. 5.

Schick Withdraws From Defense in County Court Case

When the second degree assault case charging Clarence Herman Schmid of Ohayo Mountain Road, Town of Woodstock, was called in County Court Monday afternoon, John J. Schick, who had been assigned as defense counsel, asked to be relieved. Schick told County Judge Raymond J. Mino there had been lack of cooperation in the matter and he felt he should be relieved of the assignment.

The request of Attorney Schick was granted and Judge Mino told Schmidt that he would assign counsel later after Schmidt told the Court he did not have funds to pay an attorney. The matter was adjourned pending assignment of counssel and bail was continued.

In the case of Frank Irving Ellsworth of Flatbush Road, the case was adjourned to Dec. 13 at 10 a. m. and bail was continued. Frederick H. stang appears for defendant by assignment. A charge of giving a false name and false address when purchasing an excepted narcotic preparation against Patrick Elmo, also known as J. Lynch and J. Loring, was adjourned to Dec. 13 at 10 a. m. George Beck appears for defendant.

Anderson, of Marlboro, is charged with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Georgia Mae Lester, 26, near her Marlboro trailer home last April 11. Anderson, 46, was employed at a Marlboro cooler. Harry Gold and Sherwood Davis appear for the defendant. District Attorney Joseph J. Torraca appears for the prosecution.

Dizzy the Dolphin Dies Despite Efforts

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) —Dizzy the dolphin died on a hospital x-ray table despite the frantic efforts of an aquarium staff and an understanding hospital.

The 350-pound bottle-nosed dolphin, who frolicked with other dolphins in a tank at the aquarium of Niagara Falls, swallowed something Monday that apparently was thrown into the pool, an aquarium spokesman said.

Dizzy, a male dolphin between 3 and 5 years old, was rushed to Niagara Falls Memorial Hospital and examined in the emergency room. But surgery was impossible because of the mammal's respiratory system, which prohibits the use of anesthecics.

Charles Emmett, the dolphin's trainer, explained that x-rays would have shown what the dolphin had swallowed and steps, other than surgery, would have been taken to remove it.

But the dolphin died on the x-ray table before any x-rays could be taken.

Local Jaycees Launch Drive For Viet Gifts

Woodstock area residents are being given the opportunity to join with citizens throughout the nation to show the world Americans are proud of their servicemen in Viet Nam and to show they do care about the suffering in that country.

W. Jack Kahn, president of the Woodstock Jaycees, announced that the organization is setting up a collection day for ACTT, American's Christmas Train and Trucks.

At least 100 freight carloads of food, medical supplies, children's clothes and toys, soap, school supplies and basic farm and building tools, gifts contributed by Americans in local communities, will be carried by local trucks to selected rail centers and taken from there by train to San Francisco to be shipped to Viet Nam where servicemen will give them personally to the Vietnamese.

American's Christmas Train and Trucks is a unique joint operation of the National Jaycees, Young Republicans and Young Democrats. ACTT is a non-profit, charitable agency. Contributions are tax deductible.

National ACTT aims to coordinate and give focus to the feeling of America through its Christmas Train and Trucks. When the ACTT ship sails from San Francisco for Viet Nam on Christmas Day, ACTT will dissolve. The contributed funds that remain will be given to private agencies now active in Viet Nam —Project Concern, the Dr. Tom Dooley Foundation, USO, CARE and others.

Items being requested by the local Jaycees include the following:

Hammers, hand saws, hack saws, files, wood chisels, screwdrivers, wood planes, shovels, nails and screws, soap, tooth brushes, tooth paste, combs, DDT powder, antiseptics, deodorizers, laundry soap, small towels and wash cloths, pencils, erasers, tablets, rulers, small copy books, needles, thread, thimbles, buttons, scissors, fabrics (no wool), children's clothing (used clothing acceptable), adult clothing (new only), cubed sugar, sweetened condensed milk and hard candy.

Collection points will be announced. Chairman for the Woodstock Jaycee project is Jack Rose. Information may be obtained from him.

Living Costs Up To Record High

WASHINGTON (AP)— Living costs rose two-tenths of 1 per cent in October to an all-time high, the Labor Department said today. All major items except groceries went up.

Housing, clothing, transportation and medical care costs all went up, bringing the government's consumer price index to 110.4, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

The index figure means it took $11.04 to purchase typical products that cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

Assistant Commissioner Arnold Chase said the increase brought the yearly rise in the index to 1.8 per cent since October of 1964, compared with the annual rise of about 1.2 per cent in the previous several years.

"We're still all right," Chase said when asked if the yearly rise indicated inflationary danger signs.

He added, "This is about as much of a rate of price increases as we should have."

The biggest increase in October was in new car prices, which rose 1.2 per cent largely because auto dealers offer fewer concessions at the start of a new model year.

Chase said this reported increase did not conflict with a Texas White House statement that retail prices for new 1966 models had dropped eight-tenths of 1 per cent compared with a year ago.

The 1.2 per cent increase is based on a caomparison with September.

Chase said that as auto dealers clear out leftover 1965 models, new car prices will show a further increase in November.

After-tax earnings of factory workers hit an all-time high in October of $90.07 for single workers and $97.82 for workers with three dependents.

Purchasing Power Up

Despite the increase in prices, purchasing power of factory workers went up 55 cents per week to a new high of $88.61 for workers with three dependents and $81.59 for single workers in terms of 1957-59 dollars.

The bureau said purchasing power was up between 16 and 18.5 per cent for factory workers, depending upon the number of dependents, since 1957-59.

About 22,000 workers will get wage increases of 1 cent per hour from escalator clauses in labor contracts pegged to the government's price index. Another 1,200 workers will get 3-cent pay increases.

Driver Training

A class in adult driver training will begin Wednesday, 7 p. m. in the Vocational Building of Kingston High School. Although registration has already taken place there is still an opportunity for a few more students to enroll for this course. The class meets twice a week, one night for related class work and one night for behind the wheel driving experience.

Kingston Woman Faces 3 Charges

Miriam A. Kevelier, 45, of Route 5, Box 330, Kingston, was arrested by deputy sheriffs in Port Ewen Monday after her car had been involved in an accident. She was charged with driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident and driving her car to the left of a double line.

Before Justice of the Peace John O. Beaver of Esopus where she was arraigned, she was held in $300 bail for appearance at 8 p. m. today. She was remanded to jail and later released on bail.

Deputy Sheriffs Guy A. Rider and Ernest Ahlberg charged the Kevelier car crossed a double white line to pass a car in front of her and in so doing sideswiped an oncoming car. She allegedly continued on and hit a parked pick-up truck. She was arrested at 5:45 p. m. by the deputies called to investigate. After striking the vehicles her car continued on and came to a stop after hitting a pole. Her car was badly damaged.

Reds Show Slight Loss In Italy's Early Vote

ROME (AP)—Italy's Communist party today showed slight losses in scattered local elections. Premier Aldo Moro's Christian Democrats held their own.

The outcome of the voting by more than a million Italians on Sunday and Monday was bound to bolster Moro and his center-left coalition government.

It marked one of the few times the Communist party did not show clear over-all gains in an Italian election, and it indicated at least a temporary halt to broad Christian Democrat losses.

The weekend balloting was for three provincial councils and 165 municipal councils.

Public Boat Launching Site at City of Hudson

Plans for a public boat launching site at the foot of Ferry Street in the City of Hudson were announced today by the State Conservation Department.

Acquisition of land for the project is nearing completion and, if construction funds are approved, the facility will open in 1966. Located adjacent to the old ferry slip on the Hudson River, the proposed boat launching site will raise to four the number of Conservation Department sites currently in operation or under construction on the lower Hudson. The other boat launching sites are located at Athens, Coxsackie and Newburgh.

Preliminary plans for the Hudson site call for a parking area to handle up to 40 cars and boat trailers, a 70 foot launching ramp to permit simultaneous launching of two boats docking facilities, landscaping and a small overlook area, the Department said.

Held on Vehicle Charges

Two young women who gave Grossinger's at Liberty, Sullivan County, as their home address, were arrested by Ellenville state police on charges of violating the Vehicle and Traffic law. Joyce Thomas, 22, was charged with being an unlicensed operator and Jean Alford, 30, was charged with permitting an unlicensed operator to use the car. They were held in $50 each by Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel of Town of Wawarsing and remanded to jail in lieu of bail.

Man Will Dye for His Job, Not for Woman Next Door

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A man will dye, dye, dye for his job, but not for the woman next door.

Sales of men's hair coloring products have boomed 73.3 per cent this year, the biggest jump in the men's toiletries field. Barbers report a big business in touching up the gray.

Clairol Enters Field

One manufacturer, L'Oreal of Paris, has developed a line of 12 shades of coloring. Clairol, which made hair coloring for women socially acceptable, is entering the field, advertising: "Does he or doesn't he? Hair coloring so natural only his barber can tell for sure."

Dr. W.G. Eliasberg, a psychiatrist and author, says older men color their hair because they are afraid of losing their jobs to younger men, not because they want to enhance their sex appeal.

"Some men make sex their careers. On the whole, these are the real exceptions," he said. "The man at age 40 to 45 who hasn't sown his wild oats is an exception, and an industry can't be built on him."

What the hair coloring industry is built on, he said, is the man who is concerned about his career.

Matter of Economics

"It is a matter of economics," Eliasberg said. "You must not look 40 if you still want to be promoted. So if you have the bad luck to lose your hair or have it turn gray, you cover up."

Eliasberg, who has a full shock of white hair, said in an interview that prejudices against wigs, wiglets, hair spray and coloring have fallen.

"There is a trend for both sexes toward rejuvenation, to appear younger than you have the misfortune of being," Elitsberg said. "You have to appear youthful. Everyone who is in that boat does it.

Increases Security

"All these people live under the same pressures of rejuvenation. They are 40 to 45, the economic pressures are increasing. Their central motive is to keep young, and if not to be young, to appear young.

"It increases their security and makes them feel they are not too old for promotion," he said.

"Sex enters very infrequently. A man that age is domesticated to such an extent that only occasionally will he want to flirt with his neighbor's wife."

"But with women, it is different. They are worried about their appeal," he said.

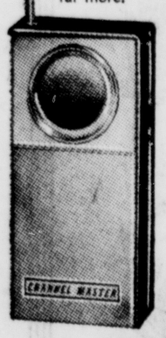

Peg-Board ¼ inch panels in the garage will get lawnmower, garden tools and other items off the floor.

Lindsay Action Is Urged in N.Y.'s Fiscal Crisis

NEW YORK (AP)—The Temporary Commission on City Finances urges that the incoming administration of Mayor-Elect John V. Lindsay act at once on the commission's recommendations to "solve the current fiscal crisis."

The commission says "the prospect of payless pay days and a pile of bills with no money in the till, even though not immediate, is certainly real, not an alarm sounded needlessly."

The commission presented the final items of its "integrated package" for budget reforms Monday.

The commission said practically all of its recommendations for fiscal reforms could "conceivably be adopted in time for the 1966-67 expense budget which goes into effect next July 1) or even for the last few months of the unbalanced 1965-66 expense budget."

The commission's report projected a $300 million deficit in the current fiscal year and "at least $500 million next year."

The commission's final recommendations chartered means by which the commission said the city could gain $315 million more in federal and state aid in the 1966-67 fiscal year.

Earlier proposals—announced Sunday—included a 2 per cent city income tax, levied on commuters as well as residents, and several other new taxes, along wih stringent economy in city operations. The yield of these proposals was estimated at $480 million a year.

When Lindsay was asked about the income tax proposal—aimed at raising $250 million a year—he said such a tax would be "definitely a last resort."

Elmira Is Approved For Youth Corps Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department announced today that Elmira, N.Y., is one of 13 communities granted approval for a Neighborhood Youth Corps project.

The projects, to help youths earn money to remain in or return to school, will cost a total of $2,681,076. The federal government will pay $2.3 million of that amount.

The Elmira project, with a cost of $67,070, is designed to aid 46 youths.

Due to Head Ford Foundation

Departure of Bundy Would Complete Staff Overhaul

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The expected departure of McGeorge Bundy as President Johnson's top aide on foreign policy would complete a major revamping of the White House staff.

Job Downgraded

Bundy, the brilliant but often abrasive presidential assistant for national security affairs, has been offered the presidency of the Ford Foundation at about $75,000 a year—more than double his $28,500 White House salary.

The best guessing here and in Washington is that the former Harvard University dean, brought to the White House in 1961 by President John F. Kennedy, will take the job.

Bundy's job as a presidential assistant has been downgraded under Johnson. And it now seems apparent that the assignment as secrttary of state, which he apparently would relish, is firmly in the grasp of Dean Rusk.

Should Bundy resign — and there has been no evidence that Johnson is resisting such a move — it would mark the end of a subtle, two-year-long reorganization of the White House staff along Johnsonian lines.

Kennedy, much like Dwight D. Eisenhower before him, thought of staff aides as specialists. Johnson, more the free-wheeler, likes to tag particular aides to do particular chores without consulting organizational charts.

Instead of viewing the office of the president as a rather formal piece of machinery, Johnson gradually has personalized it into his own kind of machine. As one observer phrased it, "he runs the presidency like a teamster drives horses."

Moyers Wears Many Hats

Thus Bill D. Moyers, current press secretary, has been chief of staff for preparing legislation and, wearing still another hat, has assumed many of the administrative functions once handled by Walter Jenkins, who resigned at President Johnson's request in October 1964 after a morals scrape with the law.

From Bundy's own viewpoint things are much different than under Kennedy when he ran a "little State Department" in the White House basement.

Kennedy, distrusting the State Department bureaucracy, used Bundy's shop as a buffer — and as a source of viewpoints that, he felt, might not otherwise come to his attention.

Johnson has displayed no such distrust of the Cabinet departments. Indeed, he has expressed a preference for dealing directly with top Cabinet officers, feeling each should be the paramount expert in his assigned field.

In view of all this, Bundy apparently feels there is no place to go but out. And Johnson seemingly feels he can get along without Bundy — and without the kind of potent office he has long headed.

Plan One Agency For Government Job Application

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson approved today a one-stop plan for government job seekers which he said would make it easier to attract capable people.

When it is in full effect, interested citizens won't have to go from agency to agency to learn about federal job opportunities, but will be able to get all the information in one place.

Plan 55 Centers

Information centers will be set up in 55 major centers, acting for the entire federal government. They will replace 684 boards of examiners, each acting for only one department or agency. Some cities now have as many as 30 or 40 of these boards.

Describing the merit system as "the keystone of good government," Johnson called the new recruiting plan "an excellent beginning."

"Eventually there should be a central information office in every major metropolitan area where citizens can get information, not only about federal job opportunities, but about all functions of the federal government," Johnson said.

In a letter to Chairman John Macy of the Civil Service Commission, Johnson wrote:

Has Endorsement

"This is a high-priority program which has my full endorsement and I shall look to you to provide the leadership for implementation at the earliest possible date.

"I am sure you will enjoy the full support of heads of departments and agencies in the pursuit of our common goal for quality and excellence in the federal service."

Officials said one-stop job information centers will be set up within a month in Boston; New York; Philadelphia; Atlanta, Ga.; Chicago; St Louis, Mo; Dallas, Tex.; Denver, Colo; San Fransisco, and Seattle Wash. All these cities have regional offices of the Civil Service Commission. Similar offices will be established later in other large cities.

Violent Crime Still On Rise During '65

WASHINGTON (AP)—The incidence of violent crime remains on the rise this year, but the FBI says the emphasis is away from the big cities.

The national increase during the first nine months of 1965 was 5 per cent compared with the same period last year. But the suburbs registered an 8 per cent rise, while communities with from 10,000 to 50,000 persons showed a 7 per cent gain.

In cities with more than one million population, the increase was only 2 per cent. Rural areas reported no change in the crime level.

Businessman Is Saved, Bullet Hits Money Bag

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herbert A. Poole, a Washington businessman, wasn't shortchanged when he went to the bank Monday.

As he returned to his car, two gunmen surprised him.

"This is a holdup," one said as he jumped in. Poole stepped on the gas.

The gunman was jolted out of the auto, but not before he fired a shot. The bullet struck Poole's heavily stuffed money bag, penetrated some bills and deflected weakly off a roll of silver. Poole suffered a slight thigh injury.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON, AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — You may work harder but you play more. You use your friends and relatives and social affairs to get your foot in the door. And you learn how to handle the secretary of the man you want to see. You also have an instinct that tells you when this prospect is wasting your time.

Composite Picture

This is a composite picture of the men who can sell a million dollars or more of life insurance a year and keep right on doing it. In fact, the going gets easier as your prestige builds up. And your own income goes up, too.

The pictures of these salesmen comes in part from a survey answered by 2,000 members of the Million Dollar Round Table for the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan. The tricks of the game come from several of the men who made the grade.

About 70 per cent say they need only three to 10 interviews a week to maintain their sales volume. And a majority clinch the deal in the prospect's office rather than his home. If the interview hasn't already been set up, the salesmen treats the secretary with the dignity and respect her importance demands.

The majority of the supersalesmen say they work a 50-hour week, with one or two evenings included in that. But most take from four to six weeks of vacation a year and four per cent take 11 weeks or more.

The average income of the 2,000 is $30,000 a year, and a fourth put their net worth at more than $300,000.

While 60 per cent are college graduates, there are about three per cent who didn't get as far as high school.

Outside Affairs Prime Help

Most admit they need friends and relatives to help them find prospects. But they stress that involvement in social events and civil affairs is a prime help. Many build up prestige by moonlighting as lecturers, speakers and authors.

Local political affairs command their attention. But only one-fourth were active in 1964 in local, state or national campaigns. A few of the insurance men wind up as state representatives, and more take on local political chores.

For 86 per cent, the biggest field for selling is to existing policyholders as these clients climb the success ladder and garner higher incomes.

Confidence Pays in Defense

By JACOBY & SON
1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The difference between good defensive play and very good defensive play is that good defensive play is individualistic while very good defensive play is based on complete partnership confidence.

It is good defensive play for West to open the ace of clubs against South's four spade contract, and most West players did just that in a recent California tournament.

Opening lead—♣ A

It also was good defensive play for West to continue by leading the three of hearts at trick two; for East to rise with the ace of hearts and return a club for West to ruff that club and set the hand with his king of hearts.

When Dick and Noreen Walsh of Los Angeles defended, the defense started that way. Dick cashed his ace of clubs and led the three of hearts but Noreen did not win the trick with the ace. She played the queen of hearts.

She would have looked mighty silly if South had produced the king, but Noreen had full confidence in Dick's play and was certain that Dick would have led a high heart if he did not hold an important high card in the heart suit. In this case the only high card would be the king so Noreen played Dick for that card.

Then Noreen gave Dick a club ruff. He led a second heart to her ace and a second club ruff set the hand two tricks and gave Dick and Noreen a top score:

Ulster College Art Instructor Receives Award

The Art Department of Ulster Community College announced today that a large drawing by Miss Ethel Magafan has just received a purchase award from the Weatherspoon Art Gallery of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. The drawing, entitled "Currie's Bridge," was chosen from the current annual exhibition, "Art on Paper" by the juror, C. V. Donovan of the Krannert Art Museum of the University of Illinois, who stated that he was very much impressed with Miss Magafan's work. This drawing will become part of the Dillard Collection of the Weatherspoon Art Gallery, and will be reproduced in a special brochure on the Dillard Collection to be issued in the near future.

Miss Magafan, nationally-known artist, is currently a member of the faculty at Ulster Community College.

Yule Trees Steady

BONN, Germany (AP) — There's a disturbing rise in the price of almost everyting in West Germany, but the Ministry for Economic Affairs says Christmts tree prices are not going up.

The basic price in the woods is to be 38 cents for each 40 inches. But a lot of extra costs and profits must be added. Last year a tree cost $2 to $8 on the streets of West German cities.

Rhodesia Proves Boon to Nkrumah

By KENNETH WHITING

ACCRA Ghana (AP) — The breakaway Rhodesian regime has served to strengthen Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah's position at home and in the rest of Africa.

Mobilization of Ghana's armed forces — including recruitment of an unpaid milita just started — will require belt-tightening by the people, Nkrumah says.

Government papers have announced that any commodity shortages and other hardships should be blamed on Rhodesia's white prime minister, Ian Smith.

No mention was made of scarcities which have been occurring sporadictlly here for more than a year because of mismanagement and corruption.

Ghana imported consumer goods worth more than $280 million to make Accra appear a well-stocked showcase during lost month's African summit conference.

These goods are mostly gone and stringent controls have been restored. Some clothing, shoes and various foodstuffs already are scarce.

"Of course I am hoarding," said one Ghanaian matron cheerfully as she strolled from an Accra shop carrying 25 pounds of sugar.

Wide powers have been assumed by the government under the Africa defense bill rammed through Parliament last Friday. Under it, the president assumed the equivalent of martial law control.

Nkrumah's prestige in the rest of Africa, which appeared at a low point at the end of the summit meeting, has risen sharply in the period since Rhodesia broke away.

The Ghanaian leader has for years advocated a unified military high command in Africa to deal with such situations as Rhodesia.

Nigerian papers have praised Nkrumah's criticism of British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and questioned the effectiveness of sanctions ordered by Britain and tacitly backed by Nigerian Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa.

CHANGING COMMONWEALTH—The Rhodesian crisis spotlights the changing British Commonwealth which has been in a state of continual transformation since World War II. Today, London directly controls little more than a collection of islands scattered around the globe. But as the old Empire has shrunk, the Commonwealth has grown. Most territories, upon achieving full independence, have retained the Commonwealth tie voluntarily. Within recent months, Singapore and the Maldive Islands have been added to the list. Queen Elizabeth II is the sovereign of the "Old Dominions" — Australia, Canada and New Zealand — as well as of the United Kingdom while the African and Asian republics recognize her as head of the Commonwealth. Twelve former full members or territories have withdrawn with London's agreement. Rhodesia is the first since the American colonies to break the British tie unilaterally.

Brown Pleads Innocent

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Jim Brown, Cleveland Browns fullback, pleaded innocent today to paternity charges brought against him by an 18-year-old girl who last summer accused him of hitting her.

Brown posted a $500 cash bond, and a preliminary hearing was set for 2 p. m. Jan. 18 before Juvenile Court Judge Walter G. Whitlatch.

Brenda Ayres filed the suit Monday.

Last June Miss Ayres charged Brown with assault and battery against her in a Cleveland motel room on the night of June 19.

Brown denied the charges and was acquitted by a jury July 23 after a two-week trial.

Disarmament Only Topic

MOSCOW (AP) — The British and Soviet foreign ministers discussed problems of preventing the spread of nuclear weapons for almost three hours today.

British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart was accompanied by Disarmament Minister Lord Chalfont to his first meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. Informed sources said the meeting was devoted entirely to disarmament.

DeGaulle to Give Word

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle plans to tell France's North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies in January how he wants the alliance reorganized, informed sources say.

The president will offer general suggestions in confidential notes to the treaty partners, the sources said. They gave no hint of what De Gaulle has in mind beyond his well known desire to abolish the alliance's integrated command.

Cheer Gronouski

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — More than 1,000 Poles sang and cheered today as John A. Gronouski arrived to take over his new post as U.S. ambassador.

The Poles lined the platforms of Warsaw's railroad station and shouted out "long live the ambassador" and sang out "may he live 100 years" when the former postmaster general stepped from his train.

Lost Their Lure

RAWLINS, Wyo. (AP) — Would-be bank burglars got their fishing lines tangled and came up with no catch, Rawlins police found a plastic sack with four fishing lines rigged on the corners at the night depository of the Rawlins National Bank. Officers theorized the thieves tried to catch money dropped in the night depository in the plastic sack and retrieve it with the fishing lines. But officers said the depository is so constructed that when the fishing lines were pulled up, the lines were severed.

May Call FBI Informant Into Alabama Trial

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Top government attorneys — trying to prove conspiracy in the shooting of Viola Gregg Liuzzo — were expected to bring an FBI informant into court today.

Asst. Atty. Gen. John Doar of the Justice Department's civil rights division declined to say definitely, however, whether he would call Gary Thomas Rowe Jr.

Testimony Indicated

He did indicate Rowe, a paid FBI informer for five years, would testify in the trial of three Ku Klux Klansmen.

The Klansmen went on trial Monday on charges of violating the civil rights of Mrs. Liuzzo, a white Detroit housewife, who was shot to death March 25.

Mrs. Liuzzo, mother of five, was shuttling demonstrators from Montgomery to Selma after the civil rights march last spring when she was killed.

The Klansmen on trial are Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 22, of Fairfield, Ala., and Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, Ala. They are defended by former Mayor Art Hanes of Birmingham.

The trio was indicted on state murder charges in addition to the federal charge. Only Wilkins has been tried in state court, however, and he was acquitted by an all-white jury at nearby Hayneville.

Face Trial Next Spring

Eaton and Thomas are scheduled to be tried on the murder indictments next spring.

The federal indictment — which carries a maximum of 10 years in prison and a fine of $5,000-does not mention the name of Mrs. Liuzzo, wife of Anthony Liuzzo, a Teamsters Union official.

The Klansmen are being tried in the court of U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Johnson Jr., whose ruling last spring allowed the march to Montgomery on grounds that demonstrators had a right to protest in that form.

The government claims Mrs. Liuzzo's right of protest was violated.

In the integrated courtroom, a jury of 12 white men and two alternate jurors — a man and a woman — listened to a string of government witnesses testify.

A preview of Rowe's probable testimony came when FBI agent Neil Shanahan of Birmingham told of his conversation with the informer only hours after Mrs. Liuzzo's death.

The Klansmen sat impassively as Shanahan told of the trio and Rowe beginning the night's activity when "Gene Thomas suggested they skin some heads."

Young Hunter Found

CORRY, Pa. (AP)—A 14-year-old deer-hunter, lost in desolate Tamarack swamp, was found early today by a group of searchers.

Alvin Yoder of Bear Lake, Pa., was brought to a hospital here suffering from exposure and possible frostbite. He was reported in satisfactory condition.

The boy became separated from an uncle and a friend monday during a snow storm. The swamp stretches into southwestern New York.

Surcharge Holds

LONDON (AP) — By a three-vote majority, the House of Commons authorized the Labor government Monday night to continue its 10 per cent surcharge on imports for another year.

Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan told the house the tax was still needed to help correct the unfavorable balance of trade.

Missing Upstate Hunters Found By Search Party

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP)— An Army sergeant and his son who disappeared Sunday on a hunting trip were found safe today in a remote section of the Camp Drum military reservation.

Camp officials said Sgt. 1.C. Alfred E. Young, 39, of Watertown, and his son Christopher appeared to be in good condition despite their exposure to cold, snowy blustery weather.

The Youngs were last seen Sunday afternoon in the densely wooded Indian Lake section of the 85,000-acre reservation. They were found by a search party at a point about 20 miles from the camp's main-base area.

A spokesman for the camp said the Youngs were found near their automobile, in a ditch along an isolated road.

Bad weather of the last two days had hampered on air-ground search conducted by state police, military personnel and volunteers.

Temperatures fell into the low 20's the past two nights and about a foot of snow fell in the area.

Crispell Returning To State Labor Job

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Herbert W. Crispell, a former deputy industrial commissioner, will return to the State Labor Department as executive deputy to Commissioner Martin P. Catherwood.

Crispell resigned last spring as deputy commissioner in charge of the department's New York City office and became economic coordinator for Erie County.

Crispell, 52, is a former newspaperman who joined the Labor Department in 1962 as public relations director.

He will replace Robert D. Helsby in the $27,000-a-year post of executive deputy. Helsby has resigned, effective Dec. 31, to become an executive dean in the State University.

Derailment Cleared

DUNKIRK, N.Y. (AP) — The Norfolk & Western and Pennsylvania Railroads were back in service today after a main-line, double track they share was cleared of a derailment.

Repairs crews restored service Monday.

An 85-car, eastbound Norfolk & Western freight spilled 27 cars over the track Sunday near the eastern edge of this Chautauqua County city.

The two railroads rerouted trains over tracks of the New York Central system until the repairs were completed.

The cause of the derailment was not known.

Wilson Expected To Send Token Force to Zambia

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson was expected to announce today that Britain is sending a token military force to Rhodesia's northern frontier.

Report Agreement

Qualified sources said Wilson had agreed to a request from President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia for help in protecting the Kariba hydroelectric dam on the Zambia-Rhodesia frontier. Last Friday, saboteurs blew up a tower on the power line which carries electricity from the dam to Zambia's copper belt.

Military correspondents of British newspapers reported the prime minister would tell the House of Commons that a force already was on the way. It was believed to consist of Royal Air Force reconnaissance planes and technicians.

Qualified sources said Wilson had agreed to send the force on condition that it would stay in Zambian territory, that it would remain under British control and that no other foreign troops would be allowed into Zambia while the British are there.

Informed sources in Lusaka, the Zambian capital, said RAF personnel began arriving there late last week.

Heath Backs Stand

Political sources said Conservative leader Edward Heath and his inner circle decided Monday night to support Wilson's dispatch of troops so long as it was emphasized that the move held no direct threat to Rhodesia.

Heath apparently accepted the argument spread by the Laborites that if Britain did not send troops, Kaunda would seek them from other nations who have offered aid. These are understood to include Ghana, the United Arab Republic and Communist China.

Zambia has an army of only 1,200 men and it normally is occupied with internal security duties.

Some right-wing Conservative backbenchers feared that once British troops were in the area, Wilson would come under pressure to use them against the rebel white minority government of Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith.

To List Curbs

Wilson has said he will rely on economic sanctions to try to bring the rebel regime down. Political sources said stiff new sanctions against Rhodesia will be announced soon.

RFK Tries Again

MANAUS, Brazil (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy took off for Caracas, Venezuela, today in a second attempt to complete his South American tour.

The New York Democrat and his party turned back to Manaus Monday after their Brazilian airliner developed trouble in one of its four turboprop engines.

Varig Airlines sent another plane to Manaus during the night from Panama. Kennedy hoped to complete his schedule in Venezuela and leave for New York this afternoon.

Terms Beer Sales In Memorial Hall, Degrading

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Sam Swartz says he feels selling beer during events in Rochester's War Memorial Auditorium would "degrade" the place.

And rather than do it, he's willing to risk the loss of his concession contract at the auditorium, he said Monday night.

Swartz, of Rochester, said he had talked over the matter with his wife, Harriet, and 16-year-old daughter, Eilene, and "they're behind me 100 per cent."

Swartz, who has 30 parttime employes, has held the auditorium concession contract for eight years. His current three-year pact expires in June.

The auditorium commission decided Nov. 15 to begin selling beer and ale at the auditorium except at functions attended primarily by minors or when a sponsor of an event requested that the beer not be sold.

The commission began steps Monday to cancel Swartz' contract.

The auditorium was built in downtown Rochester by public subscription funds to honor the city's war dead.

Caveman for 85 Years Dies; Had Bed, 320 Acres

WHEELER, Tex. (AP) — Noble Chancey Myers, who lived in a cave much of his 85 years, died on a bed of burlap bags Monday, but he owned the bed and the 320 acres around it.

Myers, who said he had worked in Paris, watched bullfights in Spain and punched cattle on the pampas of the Argentine, returned to the cave on his half section of land 12 miles north of this Panhandle town for at least a few months each year.

In another cave, friends found a metal box containing the title to Myers' land, a bank book from a Wheeler bank showing a balance of $20,000, a will and other papers. Sheriff Bus Dorman estimated value of the land at $40,000.

Myers' only living relative, Daisy Fuller of Oklahoma City, said her brother left home when he was 14 and took a job as a bronc rider for a Texas ranch.

CODY, Wyo. (AP)—The Cody Fire Department has a 1929 fire truck which it uses for parades. The department wanted to take the truck to the state firemen's convention in Casper, but was worried about its ability to make the 216-mile trip. So firemen men loaded the old truck on a semi-trailer. Five miles out of Cody, the new semi-trailer truck broke down. Firemen unloaded the old fire truck and drove it the remaining 211 miles to Casper.

Turck Trial Is Underway Here, Firearms Charge

Trial of Louis J. Turck, 35, of 50 North Street, who was charged last Oct. 16 with discharging a firearm in the city, began today before City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman and a jury.

Turck, who stirred controversy between himself and city officials when he moored a barge in the Kingston Point lagoon, was booked on the charge by Detective Gurnsey Burger. It is allaged that the gun was discharged in the lowland area beyond his home.

Turck's barge was moored near the area where a city landfill refuse disposal project is in progress. He has claimed he is entitled to leave it there because it is in tidal water.

City officials, including Mayor John J. Schwenk, in effect, claim that mooring of the barge is an obstructionist move, and he has been asked to remove it, but refused to comply.

Attorney Aaron E. Klein, former city judge, appears for Turck and Assistant District Attorney James A. Fisher for the prosecution.

Vatican Council's Birth Control Plan Is Flexible

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A Vatican Ecumenical Council source said today that the assembly's birth control document has been revised to provide a basis for possible change in church teaching against contraception, while upholding current restrictions.

The source said the revision—in line with a request by Pope Paul VI — had been done in such a way as to more than satisfy progressive bishops.

Birth control is discussed in the council's schema on modern world problems. The final text of this document was sent to the printer today after approval by Pope Paul and prior to a final round of voting in the council on Saturday.

The birth control report came as the council returned to work after a 10-day recess and came to a final vote on its missionary schema.

Steelworkers Stick To Industry-Wide Bargaining System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The big Steelworkers Union, ready to quit industry-wide bargaining after the recent contract settlement "suggested" by President Johnson, has changed its mind.

The decision to stick with the long tradition of bargaining in concert with the Big 10 steel companies apparently settles a sharp internal division within the million-member AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union.

10-Year System

Union President I. W. Abel, who unseated longtime Steelworkers chief David J. McDonald in the midst of the recent steel crisis, made it clear the union will continue its 10-year system of negotiating with the major companies that represent 80 per cent of the nation's steel production.

"The record shows that our industry-wide program really paid off," Abel said Monday in a talk here.

But the newly elected Steelworkers' leadership sang a different tune when it returned to Pittsburgh from the White House in September to persuade a fired-up membership to accept the settlement, reached after President Johnson had laid specific "suggestions" before deadlocked negotiators and kept them virtually locked up until they reached agreement.

There was fear at the time that the powerful Wage Policy Committee of the union might reject the White House settlement.

At a secret policy meeting, the top union leaders at the time, Steelworkers Vice President Joseph Malony, with Abel also present, said: "Next time we'll take them (the companies) on one at a time and beat hell out of them."

The Teamsters Union, which has the power to halt most of the nation's trucking, has for many years used to good effect the "falling-domino" theory of negotiations, in which one big empany at a time is picked off without creating a national crisis and government intervention.

Traces History

But Abel, in tracing the history of steel bargaining, said that "I don't share this great concern" about crisis bargaining. Abel spoke to a collective bargaining conference being held here by the AFL-CIO Chemical Workers Union.

A Steelworkers spokesman confirmed it was Abel's first public reaffirmation of industry-wde steel negotiations.

$25 Million Seen Need for 1966

County Delegates Attend 2-Day Regional Meeting

Ulster County delegates from the National Foundation of the March of Dimes met recently for a two-day regional conference in New York.

Plans were formulated for the 1966 drive during January. The National Foundation is the largest single national source of private support for research and patient care in this disease area.

Kelly, Kaplan Attend

Representing the local chapter were Attorney William A. Kelly, chairman; Meyer Kaplan, vice-chairman; Mrs. Jean Gaede, and Mrs. Virginia Hyatt, both of Woodstock and Murray Weiss, director of local chapter of the Association for Retarded Children.

One of the highlights of the New York conference was the appearence of Lori Wagner, 5, the 1966 National March of Dimes girl of Milwaukee, Wisc.

Lori, a birth defect victim who was born with an open spine, posed for hours with the attending delegates.

The conference covered such varied topics as the needs of the 1966 Drive, estimated at $25 million dollars nationally, the progress of the Salk Institute, methods of promoting successful March of Dimes drives, with special emphasis on teen-age participation, the continued development of facilities for the care of those afflicted with birth defects, in the ever-increasing treatment centers throughout the country, and present medical aspects of diagnosis, evaluation and care of those afflicted with birth defects.

Dr. Smith of Rochester and Dr. William Peterson of Albany were the principal medical speakers. Ulster County delegates to this convention were particularly impressed with the address, accompanied by interesting slides and photographs given by Dr. Peterson who is in charge of the Birth Defects Treatment Center in Albany. Dr. Peterson is a Kingston native and received enthusiastic appreciation for his splendid lecture and the most informative question and answer period which followed.

The Birth Defects Treatment Center in Albany where Ulster County patients can go upon referral by their own physicians, is partially supported by March of Dimes funds from this county. All who attended this conference agreed that it was an excellent one and gave much promise for the future, especially for certain forms of birth defects.

Nearly One-Third Sales Tax Forms Are in Mails

ALBANY — State Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy announced this week that the first 150,000 of an estimated 460,000 revised sales tax return forms (ST-100) will be mailed to vendors before December 1.

Commissioner Murphy pointed out that the sales tax return forms are for the first full quarter of the tax, covering the months of September, October and November, and are due no later than December 20.

It is suggested that vendors mail their returns early to avoid holiday mail delays.

Returns for the month of August were due on September 20. Hereafter, returns will be due quarterly, on the 20th of December, March, June and September.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 30, the 334th day of 1965. There are 31 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1835, Samuel Langhorne Clemens, or author Mark Twain, was born in Florida, Mo.

On this date:

In 1874, Britain's World War II prime minister, Winston Churchill, was born.

In 1924, the first automatic transmission of photographs across the Atlantic by wireless telegraphy was made — from London to New York in 20 minutes.

In 1939, Russia attacked Finland by land, air and sea.

In 1941, the Japanese foreign minister called U. S. proposals for settling the Far Eastern crisis fantastic.

In 1944, U.S. fliers smashed a large-scale Japanese attempt to reinforce Leyte Island.

Ten years ago — The French assembly was dissolved after a vote of no confidence against Premier Edgar Faure.

Five years ago—The nuclear-powered submarine Patrick Henry was ordered to join her sister ship, the George Washington, on a mysterious patrol misston.

One year ago — Russia launched a space probe toward Mars.

London's "Big Ben" got its name from Sir Benjamin Hall, commissioner of works when the clock was built.

Mailing Tips For Christmas

"Last Christmas the post office handled more mail than ever before, yet the operation was the most efficient in history," Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk said today.

Nationally about 99 per cent of the Christmas mail reached its destination before Christmas Eve.

"Zip Code use and th cooperation of the public in mailing early were the main reasons for our success. With the same or better cooperation this year, we expect to handle an even greater volume of mail with less effort than during the 1964 Christmas rush," the local postmaster declared.

Postmaster Newkirk had the following advice which would help mailers prepare for the upcoming mailing season.

Prepare a gift list as soon as possible. Shop early to take advantage of full stocks. Be sure to have on hand enough shipping materials; boxes, tape, wrapping paper, etc.

Use first class postage on greeting cards. This assures their being forwarded if the recipient has moved or that undeliverable cards will be returned if a return address is on the envelope. Be sure to use your Zip Code in your return address.

The postmaster emphasized again this year that poorly wrapped and loosely packed cartons are the major cause of parcel post damage. He urged that cartons be packed tightly by using stuffing material to fill up the empty space around the merchandise. Enclose your return address in package as well as on the outside. He also asked that all mailers make an effort to address their letters, cards and packages as clearly as possible and that they make every attempt to mail often, not waiting until the last minute to deposit all their gifts and greetings.

Lioness on Prowl

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sister, the 2-year-old lioness, had a couple of hours of freedom recently—but it wasn't much fun. After she escaped from her cage at a wild animal exhibition, she padded around briefly before sheriff's deputies chased her into a thick mangrove swamp.

A deputy shot her with a dart containing transquilizing fluid, and Sister was taken back to her cage. She was described by caretaker Willie Bumpass as "a pet and not dangerous."

Plan Science Building

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — Rutgers, the state university, says it will build a $5.4-million science building on its Newark campus. It is to be constructed with bond issue funds approved last year and a federal grant.

Onteora Will Be Represented in All State Band; Work Continues on Half-Time Shows

By DOROTHY A. NAREL
Freeman Society Editor

The Onteora High School Marching and Symphonic Band is one of the finest performing groups throughout the Hudson Valley. Its half-time shows during the football seasons have won an enviable reputation for outstanding quality.

If you talk to Harry Simon, director of music for OCS, you will learn the annual productions are the result of year-round work by the director and Mrs. Barbara Jordan, director of OCS Majorettes.

For the past eight years, the OCS Band has earned the highest possible music rating in New York State—A-6. The 70-member band has played this difficult music consistently.

To produce the ambitious half-time programs, Mr. Simon and Mrs. Jordan decide on a theme a year in advance. A tape recording of the music is made and, during the winter, Mrs. Jordan works on choreography for the Onteora Majorettes. Mrs. Jordan, a graduate of Springfield College, has always shown a keen interest in drill units and each year she presents a new format for the show complete with colorful costuming.

In the spring, the band and marching unit are brought together for the purpose of polishing their performances. The popularity of these half-time shows staged by the Onteora High School Marching and Symphonic Band and the Majorettes is almost as great with football crowds as the rough and tumble game itself.

All State Band

Mr. Simon has also released the announcement that one of the band members, Donna Goins, has been accepted by the New York All-State Band, a group composed of outstanding high school band students throughout the state. A senior, Miss Goins auditioned for the state band at the beginning of the school year. She has entered the New York State Music Competition as a tuba soloist twice and both times was awarded the A-6 rating. Last year, Miss Goins was awarded a Music Scholarship to study at the University of Vermont in Burlington.

DONNA GOINS

The young musician plans to attend the Music School of the University of New York at Fredonia next fall. She will major in Music Education.

The All State Band will rehearse and perform at the Concord Hotel, Kiamesha, N. Y., on December 5-8 in conjunction with the New York State School Music Association convention. James T. Matthews will conduct.

WHAT TO CALL STEPPARENTS

The question of what children should call their stepparents is frequently asked and is a difficut one to answer because the circumstances are so variable.

The most important thing, however, is that children should never be forced to call a stepparent "Mother" or "Father" or any nickname having that meaning especially if their own parent is living. If they choose to do so, it is a compliment to the stepparent and should be encouraged.

If a child goes to live with a stepparent at a very young age, and if his own parent is dead or if the child is not and probably will never be acquainted with that parent, then he would consider his stepparent as his own and say "Mother" or "Father." This is especially true if he has stepbrothers and sisters whom he hears using those names. However, if the child is older when one parent remarries the situation is quite different. If he has known the stepparent for some time, he may call him (or her) by a nickname or even by his first name. Actually, a nickname seems to be the best solution if one can be found that is appropriate and not a derivative of "Mother" or "Father."

A Round-the-Clock Shower

Q: The other day I overheard one of the girls in the office tell another girl that she was giving a "round-the-clock" shower for a bride-to-be. I never before heard of this type of shower and am curious to know just what it means. Can you enlighten me?

A: At a "round-the-clock" shower, each guest is given an hour of the day on her invitation and brings a present appropriate for the hour. For example, if her hour is 10:00 A.M., she might take a dustpan and brush, or if it is 6:00 P. M. she might take a set of four or six cocktail glasses.

Cynthia Wilbur and Charles M. Altenkirch Exchange Vows in Woodstock Church

It was a double ring wedding ceremony for Cynthia Wilbur of Woodstock and Charles Altenkirch of Hampton Bays, L. I., on Sunday, Nov. 21, 1965 at 1:30 p. m.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Rita Wilbur of Woodstock, and the bridegroom is the son of Henry Altenkirch of Hampton Bays.

The wedding ceremony took place in the Overlook Methodist Church, Woodstock, with the Rev. James Cook officiating. Mrs. Jean Russell was organist for the occasion and Mrs. Aleksander Narel was soloist. The church was decorated with white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Dr. James C. Crandall of Saugerties, N. Y., gave the bride in marriage. She wore a gown of embossed satin in modified sheath style with a chapel length panel train. A spray of miniature orchids secured her silk illusion veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white mums and pompons.

Serving as maid of honor was Miss Sharon Stahl of Saugerties. She wore an autumn gold gown of crystal satin in sheath style with embroidered midriff and long tapered sleeves. Her matching stylized headpiece held a fly away tulle veil and she carried a fireside basket of bronze pompons with wheat.

Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Karen Eckerlein of Saugerties and Miss Linda Cousins of Woodstock. Their gowns were identical to that worn by the honor attendant except in moss green. They carried fireside baskets of bronze pompons with wheat.

Miss Lorri Dickson, the bridegroom's godchild, served as flower girl in a moss green gown. She carried a miniature basket of bronze pompons with wheat and a wreath of bronze pompons in her hair.

A reception was given in Deanie's Restaurant in Woodstock after the church ceremony.

The bride, who is a graduate of Saugerties High School, chose to wear a three piece blue jersey knit suit for her wedding trip to Norfolk, Va. She also wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. Altenkirch is a graduate of Hampton Bays High School in Long Island and Delhi Agricultural and Technical Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Altenkirch will reside in Hampton Bays, L. I.

Youth Aliyah Work Increases; Fund Campaign Launched

Thirty thousand children from Eastern European, Latin American and Oriental countries will be absorbed into institutions of Youth Aliyah, international child welfare movement in Israel within the next five years.

This was revealed by Mrs. Alvin Motzkin and Mrs. Joe Horowitz, co-chairman of Hadassah's 1965 Youth Aliyah Drive and Mrs. Feldman, treasurer for the annual event. Hadassah is Youth Aliyah's largest supporting agency.

"Youth Aliyah is in need of additional facilities to accommodate Jewish children who seek admission to its institutions. The annual Youth Aliyah budget of more than $5 million—of which Hadassah contributes $2,100,000—must be increased to meet the increasing needs of Youth Aliyah. Despite the fact that lack of funds and accommodation compelled Youth Aliyah to refuse admission of 2,000 children in 1964, Youth Aliyah now will accept all the Jewish childrern, especially from Eastern European countries, who seek help from Youth Aliyah. Somehow, they will be absorbed."

Mrs. Motzkin and Mrs. Horowitz also emphasized that within the next five years, Youth Aliyah plans to complete its task of bringing to Israel Jewish children from North African countries.

Plans have been established also for setting up new vocational educational workshops within the Youth Aliyah frameword. Two thousand of Youth Aliyah's 12,000 children now being trained are receiving vocational education. Within five years, 6,000 children must be receiving vocational training. Youth Aliyah vocational courses include carpentry, electronics, arts and crafts, drafting, metal work and photography.

Through Youth Eliyah, Hadassah has already helped resettle and rehabilitate in Israel more than 120,000 Jewish young people from 80 lands. Founded in 1934, Youth Aliyah has since then "graduated" thousands of skilled young people who constitute a potent and positive force in the agricultural, industrial, and cultural development of Israel.

Members of Hadassah and interested citizens can assist in the most worthwhile work of Youth Aliyah by contributing to the drive when they are visited by a Youth Aliyah worker or by sending their contribution to Mrs. Harry Feldman, 104 Wall Street, Kingston. All contributors will be the guests of Hadassah at a gala luncheon to be held on Tuesday, Dec. 7, at 12:30 p. m. at Temple Emanuel. A special program is being planned and the event promises to be a fitting climax for the 1965 Youth Aliyah Drive.

Dear Abby . . . Watch Out

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Every time I see a letter in your column from a mother grieving because some nasty boy got her "innocent" little daughter in trouble, my blood pressure rises. My 16-year-old son is dating steady (and I DO mean steady) a 15-year-old girl. He practically lives at her house. We've tried to impress upon him the pitfalls of too much familiarity. But about the time we get the message across to him, and he breaks away from her for an evening, the girl's mother invites him to dinner or for a day-long outing. The girl is available any time of night or day on a moment's notice. She seems to have no restrictions. They go to school together, eat lunch together, come home together, and if they don't spend the evening together, they're on the phone talking. When they're here, they're constantly holding hands, scuffling or necking. I assume they behave the same way at her house. Perhaps this girl's mother doesn't know what she is doing. Your publishing this letter might wake her up.

ONE BOY'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: In the absence of restrictions from the girl's parents, YOU should set up a few. I'll publish your letter not only to awaken that girl's mother, but to awaken countless other parents who need it.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a hostess who asks, "Would you like a cold drink, a sandwich, coffee or something?" Then she sits on her bottom without making a motion toward the kitchen? Shouldn't a hostess place the refreshments in front of her guests without any hemming and hawing? I know that 99 out of 100 people would really like to have something, but when it is put to them like this they say, "No, thank you, don't go to any bother."

OFTEN A GUEST

DEAR OFTEN: The hostess who "offers" refreshments in such a half-hearted gesture is hoping she'll be turned down because she's too lazy to move. Yes, the hostess who sincerely wants to serve her guests doesn't "inquire"—she acts.

DEAR ABBY: We have to do a "career book" for school and my chosen career is modeling (Fashion modeling.) I have always wanted to be a model, Abby, and I don't think that is anything to be ashamed of. People snicker when I say I want to be a professional model as though modeling were not much of a profession. Some have even hinted that it isn't very respectable. Others say there is no future in it. I have been told I have the figure for it. I am 5 ft. 8 inches tall and weigh 112. I am 17 years old and have done some amateur modeling, and people in the fashion business have told me I am good. Will you please tell me the truth about modeling.

WANTS TO MODEL

DEAR WANTS: Modeling is a respectable profession. (It's the "part-time" models with side-lines that give it a bad name.) And as for the future: Grace Kelly, who married the Prince of Monaco, was a model. Does that answer your question?

Troop 12 Drum Corps Concert At Granit Hotel

Troop 12 B.S.A., "Indians" Drum and Bugle Corps gave a concert for the Thanksgiving Day guests at the Granit Hotel, Kerhonkson Saturday afternoon. Ulster County Sheriff Claude Bell arranged a police escort for the "Indians" convoy headed by Constable C. H. DuMond.

Social Director Allan Leeds introduced Kingston's colorful corps and interviewed Drum Major Dennis Robinson on stage after the corps' performance. The director gave the ages of the members and described the various instruments used in a modern day corps. The entire program was so successful that Granit Manager Bob Davis invited the "Indians" back for another engagement the evening of December 30 to entertain the hotel's Christmas and New Year's guests.

Pow Wow of Junior Champions record albums featuring the Casper Troopers from Wyoming, the Garfield, N. J. Cadets, the Toronto Optimists from Canada and the B.S.A. "Indians" are now available from any member of the corps, or by contacting Director Ralph Shapiro, 19 Joy's Lane, Kingston, N. Y. 12402.

The older members of the corps will again be selling prime Canadian double balsam Christmas trees starting next weekend. Trees will be located on Albany Avenue across from Babcock's, at 228 Greenkill Avenue, at 31 Ravine Street and at 377 Washington Avenue.

Young men interested in joining one of the most colorful and fastest rising corps in the East, the "Indians", should come to rehearsals any Monday night at the Old Dutch Church and ask for Mr. Shapiro.

London's Bright Girl Too Young for School

LONDON (AP)—Little Maybelle Thompson can solve complicated algebra problems. She can read, likes history books, write, spell and yet she can't get into school.

Maybelle is only 4—and British authorities say she must wait until she's 5.

Her father, James Thompson, an American from Newark, N.J., is a teacher at a Hertfordshire school, who is privately developing a new form of education technique.

"I don't consider Maybelle to be a genius," he said. "Anybody can learn. She is desperate to start school and be with other children."

Mrs. Thompson, a Formosan who met her husband while he was a United Nations adviser, said: "Maybelle is like any other little girl. She's bright but she acts like any child her age."

Maybelle was able to spell words like "apple" at 21 months. A year later she had a 400-word vocabulary.

Middletown Dominates All-DUSO; Annis Is Top Player

Nine Lettermen Return to KHS Basketball Squad

Boggs, Bach On Defensive Club; Coach Vote Tied

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Led by brilliant quarterback Pistol Pete Annis, Middletown High school heads the 1965 All-DUSO Football team, as selected by members of the DUSO Sportswriters and Broadcasters Monday at Chic's Rendezvous in Kingston.

For the first time, the scribes selected offensive and defensive teams and only two players — Bill Barnes of Middletown and Richie Plummer of Newburgh — made both squads.

Kingston High, an upset winner over Newburgh on Thanksgiving Day, placed middle guard Gerard Boggs and safety Brian Bach on the defensive club. End Roger Ohlson, quarterback Bach and halfback Lou Perry received honorable mention on the offensive team while end Bill Halterman, linebacker Jack Schatzel and safetymen Bill Dugan and Perry were given honorable mention on defensive.

Is Top Player

Annis, who had a fantastic year as a passer, runner, extra point kicker and blocker for the co-champion Middies, was a unanimous selection as "Player of the Year." John Brunner of Middletown and Joe Viglione of Port Jervis, last year's winner, were named "Coaches of the Year," the first time in the association's history that the vote ended in a tie.

Joining Annis on the offensive team are teammates Bill Barnes and Bruce Bertholf at the end slots, tackle Rudy Daschner and back Gary Weyant. Tackle Tom Connelly, guard Mark Faller and back Elbert Wilkerson are Port Jervis representatives while Newburgh has center Eric Thueson and back Plummer picked.

Kingston failed to land an offensive spot and Poughkeepsie was blanked on both teams.

Bertholf, a bruising 218-pound performer; guard Tony Gesztesi and linebacker Roman Feduik are defensive representatives from Middletown.

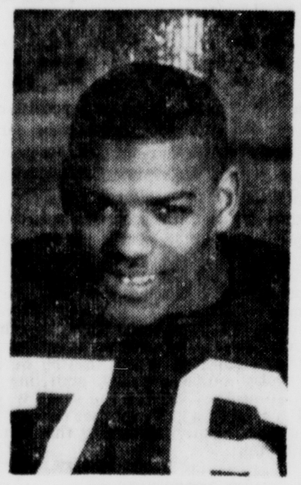

End Bob McDonald, tackle Rich Depew, linebacker Plummer and safety Abe Frazier are Newburgh selections. Port is represented by tackle Dave Simmons, linebacker Bob Devere and safety Bill Wharton.

Boggs, the most feared defensive guard in the DUSO, and Bach, a solid two-way player for Kingston, were easy choices for their first team berths.

Because an offensive and defensive team were picked, other players receiving votes were placed on the honorable mention list.

Giant Defensive Players Lead Small - College Team

By HAROLD CLAASEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Formerly, football fanatics glued their uninterrupted gaze on the ball carrier and paid no attention to the defense.

All that has changed in the past decade and if the 1965 Associated Press Little All-America team could be assembled for an All-Star fary, two jovial behemoths on defense would be as much of an attraction as any fancy-stepping halfback.

They are Frank Cornish, a 285-pound tackle from Grambling, and Willie Lanier of Morgan State, a junior linebacker who has never played in a losing game as a collegian. Every time Morgan State has lost in the past three years came with Lanier on the bench because of injuries.

For sheer bulk, Cornish is the biggest man on the 22-player offensive-defensive squad picked by The Associated Press in conjunction with football experts throughout the country. His poundage is stretched over a steel-hard frame that towers 6-7 feet.

Best Since Brown

Lanier is 6-1 and weighs 230 pounds. He is a speedster who has averaged 12 unassisted tackles a game and scored two touchdowns this season, once via a recovered fumble and the other following an interception. Coach Earl Banks says Lanier is the best football player at Morgan State since the days of Roosevelt Brown, a National League standout for more than a decade.

Cornish's presence on the defense platoon and Willie Young's on the offensive forward wall makes Grambling the only college to place two men on the first team.

The first team on offense lists a trio of repeaters from the All-Star team of a year ago in Tom Mitchell of Bucknell at end, Dan Summers of Arkansas State at guard and Randy Schultz of the State College of Iowa at fullback.

Robert Burles of Willamette, a 226-pound tackle, makes his second appearance on the defensive line-up.

Those who moved up from the second team of a year ago were Allen Smith of Findlay, a ball-carrying halfback; Marvin Peterson, Pacific Lutheran's steady center; Tim Chilcutt, defensive genius at Austin Peay State; and Randy Johnson Texas A&I quarterback.

Nicklaus Leads

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Official earnings reported by the Professional Golfers' Association show Jack Nicklaus continues to make the most take-home pay.

The PGA Monday listed Nicklaus' official earnings through the Cajun Classic as $104,752, well ahead of second-place Tony Lema, who has earned $101,816. Nicklaus' total earnings amoint to $152,246 compared with Lema's $108,869.

Schirmer Stars In Miami Tie With NotreDame

CORAL GABLES, Fla. — Junior Bill Schirmer of Saugerties played his greatest game as a University of Miami defensive end in the sizzling scoreless tie with heavily favored Notre Dame.

Schirmer had eight tackles and two assists as he played most of the way on defense. Senior starter Bob Werl, hampered with a bad knee played only briefly and had just one tackle.

The junior star came up with a big play late in the third period when, with Notre Dame on the six, he dropped Nick Eddy for a short gain and forced a field goal try which went wrong.

Wolfpack Coach Tops in Atlantic

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Earl Edwards, whose North Carolina State team bounced back at midseason with five straight victories, is Football Coach of the Year in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

The 30-year veteran of collegiate coaching easily led the voting by 79 members of the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association. It was the third time in his 12 seasons at N.C. State that Edwards won the award.

Edwards, generally a mild-mannered coach, told his squad at midseason he no longer expected the mistakes of the first five games that led to a 1-4 record. The Wolfpack responded with five straight victories and finished with a 6-4 mark.

Key Whirl Notches Roosevelt Pace

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—Key Whirl notched a three-quarter length victory in the $2,800 Conditioned Pace at Roosevelt Raceway Monday night.

The 4-year-old gelding, clocked in 2:06 4-5, took an early lead and held off second-place War Chant. Stormy Dream showed.

Roosevelt now is the only track in New York State holding harness racing programs. It winds up activity for the year on Dec. 11.

Maroon to Open Season Dec. 7 With Arlington

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Nine returning lettermen, including the entire starting team which finished the 1964-65 season and three jayvee players will comprise the Kingston High varsity basketball team this season and coach John J. Gilligan cannot help but be cautiously optimistic.

"We have good balance, adequate speed and a deep bench. If we can learn a new defense, we will be pennant contenders," is the way Gilligan describes chances for the season, which gets underway Tuesday, Dec. 7 with a non-league home engagement against Arlington.

The KHS coach, who guided the Maroon club to a 12-6 mark last year, said the boys must be wary of overconfidence. "Every team will be out to take us and we mustn't beat ourselves," he said.

Heppner Returns

Heading the returnees is Dan Heppner, the leading scorer in the DUSO last season and a first team all-star selection. Heppner reported several pounds overweight but has been working hard and figures to be ready for the opener.

Leon Hanna, a rugged 6-3 rebounder; John Spinneweber, at 6-5 the tallest player on the club; Ron Lindsay and Dick VanDyke, all starters last year, return. Also back are Gary VanEtten, Brian Bach, Jim Fitzgerald and Clint Marello, all of whom saw varsity action. Up from the jayvees are Charles Lay, Pete Watzka and George Barnes.

Three Positions Set

Gilligan said that Heppner, Lindsay and Hanna have three of the starting positions but the other two are wide open with Spinneweber, VanDyke, VanEtten and Lay the leading candidates. Bach and Barnes played football and are a little behind the others at the present time.

Despite the fact that the locals have been practicing for a month, there have been several pre-season mishaps. Spinneweber missed more than a week because of the flu and both VanEtten and Lindsay suffered from ankle trouble. However, all are reported in top notch shape and ready to go.

Kingston has had several scrimmages and Gilligan is pleased with the program on defense. "The offense needs some work but the boys are working hard and the spirit is good," he said.

The KHS coach feels the DUSO race will be between his team and Monticello and Newburgh. Kingston will also host the Holiday Cage tourney in which Ossining, Beacon and Albany will also compete.

Mike Rienzo will again coach the jayvees.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

Relaxing in the pleasant, post-prandial atmosphere of the West Point Officers Club, Army football coach Paul Dietzel was not the prototype of the mentor seething with emotion as the "big game" approached.

He looked instead like a man who could live to be 100 years old — and probably will.

He calmly reviewed the highlights of the so-so 1965 season — the good and bad — without equivocation or alibing — and yet never let his listeners forget that Army could beat Navy a few days later.

A pleasant, affable man who devours enormous quantities of legal size pads working out plays and maintaining the continuity of contemporary Army football history, Dietzel is completely devoid of affectation and snobbery.

To him and his genial public relations man — Frank Walters— the journalistic hicks from Kingston, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie and Middletown are just as important as the big wheels from the metropolitan district, the wire associations and slick magazines.

A Nice Place to Visit

Between them, Dietzel and Walters have done much to restore a fine working relationship between the mid-Hudson area sportswriters and the Army athletic department. This liaison had been severely damaged in the latter years of the regime of Walter's predecessor at the Point. The Academy is again a nice place to visit.

First time we saw or heard Paul Dietzel he was addressing a service club in Kingston. He said then he wanted Hudson valley fans and press to regard West Point as "their team" and pledged to work in that direction. He has accomplished that goal.

The question of breaks affecting the outcome of football games was discussed over the baked ham luncheon. It might not have been original but he paraphrased it something like this: "A good team can make a big mistake and recover. A team that is not qfiite good enough seldom rallies from the bad break in a tight game."

A Bigger Stadium

Walters said Army has not completely abandoned plans for enlarging Michie Stadium to 55,000 seat capacity, with a connecting spur to the Thruway.

If Army does increase the size of its hallowed stadium, it follows that a more rigorous home schedule would be mandated. That's easier said than done because of the many outside influences on the annual Army schedule.

Navy, on the other hand, except for the perennial game with William and Mary, plays a consistently tougher schedule than Army. Perhaps the admirals handle the congressmen better than the generals.

...Dietzel outlined prospects for 1966 and we got the impression the Cadets, barring injuries or unforseen mishaps, will have the best Dietzel team since he came out of the bayou Louisiana State.

Does Sister Agree?

The West Point coach is high on linebacker Townsend Clarke, who will be around again next year to harass Army opponents. He recalled the game against Stanford at Palo Alto, Calif.

"It was a hot, stifling afternoon. Clarke made 14 tackles and had six assists in one of his big days this year — and he's had a few."

A tie in the annual Army-Navy classic invariably leaves both sides deflated. Maybe Dietzel expressed it best when he said: "It's like kissing your sister."

Celebrity in Our Midst . . .

Ishmal Valenzuela, the South American jockey who piloted mighty Kelso to some of his biggest triumphs, is based at the Phoenicia Hotel for a week of deer and bear hunting in the Catskills.

The hotel proprietor, Louise Cassese, reports the deer and bear take coming out of the Phoenicia area is the heaviest in years.

The Hudson River Golf Association's annual men's championship next year will be played at the Wiltwyck Country Club on June 24-25-26. This will necessitate revising the Herdegen Memorial schedule.

The Soccer Beat . . .

Big story in soccer emanates from Lima, Peru in the aftermath of the disaster in which 309 fans died two years ago in the soccer stampede at the Estadio Nacional Stadium.

One man went to see a game recently at the stadium and was dumfounded to see his name on a plaque listing the victims. Shrewdly he went home, told his wife, and disappeared. His wife claimed his insurance, but the suspicious insurance people made inquiries, naturally after a two year lapse. The man's neighbors assured the investigators that the man was alive and well — if absent for the moment.

1968 Olympic Plans Under Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Olympic Committee completes preliminary planning today for the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City.

In the final session of its two-day meeting the committee was to announce the heads of 36 committees. These groups will be in charge of selecting the various teams to represent the United States in the Olympics and the Pan American Games.

In an executive session Monday, the committee's board of directors elected Arthur G. Lentz, 57, executive director. He succeeds the retiring J. Lyman Bingham.

Earlier, the full committee elected a new set of officers headed by Douglas Roby of Ypsilanti, Mich., as president.

Roby, a former president of the Amateur Athletic Union, has been a vice president of the Olympic Committee since 1953. He succeeds Kenneth L. Wilson, stepping down after two terms as president. Wilson was elected to serve as president emeritus along with Avery Brundage, another former president.

Knicks Release Gallatin, Sign Dick McGuire

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Knickerbockers are convinced the only way to escape the National Basketball Association depths is at a gallop. As a result Harry (The Horse) Gallatin is out of a job for the second time in 11 months.

The Knicks, mired in the NBAs Eastern Division cellar for the sixth straight season, fired Gallatin — their coach for less than a year — Monday and named Dick McGuire, another former New York ace, to succeed him.

The unexpected coaching change was dictated by the Knicks' inability to win despite their acquisition of scoring stars Walt Bellamy and Dick Barnett in early-season trades and by Gallatin's apparent reluctance to utilize the team's speed in a free-wheeling, fast-break style of play.

McGuire, one of the top playmakers in the game when he and Gallatin were New York teammates in the 1950s, replaced the former NBA ironman 11 months to the day after Gallatin was dismissed as coach of the St. Louis Hawks. Five days after the Hawks fired him Gallatin took the Knicks' job, succeeding Eddie Donovan, who moved up to general manager.

McGuire, 39, played eight seasons with the Knicks, was traded to Detroit in 1957 and coached the Pistons from December 1959 through the 1962-63 season. His Detroit clubs reached the NBA playoffs four straight times. Since giving up the Piston's post, McGuire has been a salesman for a New York printing firm.

Tom Rolfe Top 3-Year-Old Colt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Tom Rolfe, out of the money only once in 13 starts and winner of $444,901, was a landslide winner of the 3-year-old colt championship in balloting by the Thoroughbred Racing Associations Board of Selection.

Raymond Guest's son of Ribot-Pochanontas received 43 of the 52 votes announced today. He was the only sophomore to finish in the money all of the three events comprising the Triple Crown. He ran third in the Kentucky Derby, won the Preakness and lost a neck decision to Hail to All in the Belmont Stakes.

Dartmouth Wins Lambert Trophy

NEW YORK (AP) — Dartmouth is the 1965 winner of the Lambert Trophy.

Dartmouth's selection as Lambert winner designates the Indians as the East's top major college football team.

The Indians, who finished with a perfect 9-0 record and a 28-14 triumph over Princeton in their showdown for the Ivy League title, got 11 first-place votes and one second. The other first went to Syracuse, 7-3.

Spartans Will Have To Wait

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ten days ago Notre Dame battled Michigan State in what well could have been the game for the national college football championship. Today, a lot of fight having gone out of the Irish, Notre Dame finds itself barely a member of the Associated Press' Top Ten.

Because of a scoreless tie with Miami, Fla., the Irish tumbled from sixth place last week to ninth in this week's balloting.

The final poll will be taken following the post-season bowl games in which eight of the current Top Ten play.

Notre Dame was fourth before the game with No. 1 Michigan State Nov. 20 but fell to sixth following the 12-3 loss. This week the Irish received 79 points, just 22 ahead of 10th ranked Texas Tech.

Besides the Irish, the only other Top Ten team not headed for a bowl game is eighth-ranked Southern California.

35 First Place Votes

Michigan State, which closed its regular season against Notre Dame, accumulated 35 of 46 first-place votes and a total of 446 points.

Arkansas drew 10 votes for first and 398 points while Nebraska, unbeaten like Michigan State and Arkansas, compiled 348 points.

The bowl game picture shows No. 1 Michigan State and No. 5 UCLA in the Rose Bowl, No. 2 Arkansas and unranked Louisiana State in the Cotton, No. 3 Nebraska and No. 4 Alabama in the Orange, No. 6 Missouri and unranked Florida in the Sugar, No. 7 Tennessee and Tulsa in the Bluebonnet and No. 10 Texas Tech and Georgia Tech in the Gator.

The Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points on a 10-9-8 etc., basis:

1. Mich. State (3)	10	0	0	446
2. Arkansas (1)	10	0	0	398
3. Nebraska	10	0	0	348
4. Alabama (1)	8	1	1	286
5. UCLA	7	1	1	255
6. Missouri	7	2	1	186
7. Tennessee	6	1	2	109
8. Southern Calif.	7	2	1	91
9. Notre Dame	7	2	1	78
10. Texas Tech	8	2	0	56

Yankees Trade Linz for Amaro

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers and the Minnesota Twins, 1965 league champions, may be forced to stand pat during the annual baseball meetings.

There were no indications two days after the opening of the meetings that any of their challengers want to make any trades with the champions that might help them win successive pennants.

Trading already was under way between other clubs, however, with the New York Yankees swapping utilityman Phil Linz to the Philadelphia Phillies for shortstop Ruben Amaro, and the New York Mets buying Al Luplow, Cleveland outfielder, for a reported $30,000.

The Mets were expected to announce today they are sending outfielder Joe Christopher to the Boston Red Sox in exchange for shortstop Eddie Bressoud.

The Mets also sent pitcher Tom Parsons to the Houston Astros to complete a previous deal for catcher Jerry Grote, and the California Angels signed veteran pitcher Lew Burdette.

Was Free Agent

Burdette, longtime Milwaukee star, has been a free agent since posting a 3-5 record with the Chicago Cubs and the Phillies last summer.

"Lew feels he can still pitch," said Bill Rigney, manager of the Angels. "Being new to the American League might give him a new lease on life."

Neither the Dodgers, World Series champions, nor the Twins took any players in Monday's draft of minor league prospects, although 23 players were picked by other American and National League teams.

Many of those drafted were veterans trying to win another chance to make the big time in the major leagues, such as Gary Geiger, Moe Drabowsky, Ty Cline and Don Nottebart.

A few were youngsters, including 17-year-old Guillermo Montanez, a first baseman for Sarasota, Fla., who was drafted by the California Angels.

The swap of Linz for Amaro highlighted Monday's activities.

Linz, once fined $200 for playing a harmonica on a bus after a Yankee loss, was put up for trade by the Yankees because they wanted to provide insurance for shortstop Tony Kubek, troubled by injuries in recent years.

Skirmish Breaks Out Between Pro Leagues

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Professional football's signing war had its first post-draft skirmish today with defensive end Dave Long of Iowa the key figure.

Both the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League and the Houston Oilers of the American League claimed to have Long's signature on contracts. Long was drafted in the third round of Saturday's NFL draft by St. Louis and in the sixth round of the AFL draft by Houston.

But the dispute seemed destined to end before it really started. Houston owner Bud Adams, who said he had signed Long Friday night was resigned to leting him go to the Cardinals.

"He signed, as I remember it, Friday evening," Adams said. "We made a mistake by not having him sign again the next day. We sent our man out on other chores when we should have had him stick around and get that second signature."

The Houston owner said every pro team uses the double signing. Clubs don't want to waste a high draft choice on a boy unless they have him nailed, preferrably on the dotted line, Adams said.

The loss of Long seemed to make Adams even more determined to snare his No. 1 draft choice, Texas linebacker Tommy Nobis, who could be the Joe Namath in dollars and cents of this year's crop of draftees.

The New York Jets reportedly paid Namath $400,000 last year and Adams said he was ready to go past that figure to get Nobis in an Oiler uniform.

Nobis was the first player tabbed in the NFL draft when the Atlanta Falcons named him. The husky Longhorn linebacker spent Monday touring Atlanta with Falcon owner Rankin Smith and presumably listening to the new franchise's offer.

Meanwhile, the Falcons jumped into the lead in the battle of the bankroll with nine players signed. Smith added three signatures Monday, getting backs Ken Reaves of Norfolk State and Willie Asbury of Kent State, both fourth-round picks, and fullback Bill Johnson of the University of the South, a seventh-round selection.

In the American League, Boston signed four players including its first and second choices, Karl Singer of Purdue and Jim Boudreaux of Louisiana Tech. Both were picked by Cleveland in the NFL, Singer on the 13th round and Boudreaux in the 19th.

The Patriots also signed two other Louisiana Tech players, tackle Dan Irby, picked No. 6, and quarterback Bill Laird, selected in the 15th round.

Baltimore of the NFL signed three players but lost two others to the AFL. The Colts reached terms with North Carolina tackle Dave Ellis, No. 7, Auburn halfback Gerald Gross, No. 9, and Benedict College defensive end Claude Brownlee, No. 10.

But the Colts lost their fourth-round choice, Mississippi State fullback Hoyle Grange to Houston and their 11th selection, Pittsburgh halfback Eric Crabtree to Denver.

San Francisco of the NFL signed Georgia quarterback Preston Ridlehuber, their 11th-round pick. He had been chosen in the AFL's 19th round by New York.

Second Thoughts in Caracas

Red Split Confusing Even in Executions

By ELOY O. AGUILAR

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — In Venezuela, long a prime target for communism in Latin America, the world Communist quarrel is generating confusion between the pro-Moscow wing and those who promote the Peking line of constant violence.

This was illustrated after pro-Communist guerrillas executed two peasant leaders associated with the government's Democratic Action party. The body of one was left with the mouth stuffed with Communist propaganda. Next to the other body was a list of 10 other government leaders "sentenced to death" by the guerrillas.

Maverick pro-Chinese Communists and their allies in the Revolutionary Leftist Movement argued that such executions are justified. But the Communist student leader, Juvencio Pulgar, voicing a pro-Moscow view, commented that "we are on the brink of becoming another Colombia, where violence no longer has anything to do with ideology." Colombia for years was plagued by violent banditry.

Even a founder of the movement is expressing second thoughts about unbridled terrorism. Domingo Alberto Rangel has been in jail since October 1963, when the government imprisoned extreme left congressmen after the killing of five guardsmen. Once an advocate of unremitting violence, Rangel recently wrote President Raul Leoni:

"It pains me to see Venezuela getting bloodied in a struggle where the vicious circle of revenge sterilizes opportunities and closes roads to conciliation."

This hints at a feeling among extreme leftists that the guerrilla movement, rather than paying dividends, has alienated many Venezuelans.

But Julio Escalona, president of the student federation, has said recently in an interview:

"Like the Vietnamese people, we are ready to go on with this war for 20 years. We will not stop until we kick the Yankees out."

Luci's Pat Will Return to Home Unit After Basic

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Pat Nugent, boy friend of Luci Baines Johnson, has been a member of the Wisconsin Air National Guard for the last three months, it was disclosed today by his superior officer, Lt. Col. Kilian T. Morkin.

Morkin said Nugent, a June graduate at Marquette University, attended two day-long, monthly drills of the 128th Air Refueling Group at Gen. Billy Mitchell Field here in September, October and November.

Nugent, 22, whose home is at Waukegan, Ill., spent the long Thanksgiving holiday with Luci at the LBJ Ranch at Johnson City, Tex., and reported Sunday for six weeks of active duty at Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Tex.

Reportedly, Pat and Luci want to get married, but there has been no official engagment announcement from the White House.

After six weeks at Lackland, Nugent will be transferred back to Milwaukee for another 10 weeks of training with the Air National Guard. Then he will return to civilian life as a reservist required to attend monthly drills and a two-week summer training camp.

Documents Prove Indonesian Coup Was Red Inspired

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia's defense minister, Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, says documents found at the Communist party's central committee show that the party not only masterminded but "actually planned and executed" the abortive Oct. 1 coup.

The Communists had originally planned to exploit any "imperialist initiated war" but later "it appeared that they had advanced the hour of betrayal," Nasution said Monday.

Speaking at a meeting of top Socialist party officials, the general said the Communists had decided to move "because according to their evaluation the health of President Sukarno was serious."

Their coup failed because of "the inflexibility of relationships between their leaders and their followers," he added.

Remind Wool Growers Of Cut-off Sales Date

Growers were reminded today to complete all details of marketing wool and lambs not later than December 31 in order to receive payments for the current marketing year.

Joseph Sauer, chairman of the Ulster ASCS County Committee, points out that marketings completed after that date will be eligible for payments for the 1966 marketing year. Since the wool marketing year now is on a calendar year basis the sale will not be considered as taking place in the 1965 marketing year if any part of a sale of lambs or wool is not settled by December 31st.

This means that all information needed to complete the sales documents and show the net sales proceeds has to be determined and available by December 31st in order to be eligible for program payments for the 1965 marketing year.

Payments will begin about April 1, 1966, after program payment rates are determined based on average prices received by producers for shorn wool sold in 1965.

Wool producers may file applications at the ASCS County Office, 54 John Street, Kingston, any time between now and the end of January, 1966.

There they go—57 Dolphins into the cold, cold drink.

Just Because It's There . . .

Among them were longshoremen, lawyers, college athletes, postmen, teachers, insurance men, shopkeepers. Why they congregate each year for this odd mile swim, no one really knows. They call themselves the Dolphins and each fall this is one of the things that happens in San Francisco. While time for the swim is of some importance, the main objective is to get across at each individual's best pace. This year, the event's 43rd, 55 made it. Two others had to quit when the tide turned and began to carry them out toward the sea.

Annual objective is to swim across the Golden Gate. Chart showed how to defeat the pull of tide.

Right on course, under the Golden Gate Bridge, is one of the swimmers accompanied by his pilot rowboat.

He was released almost immediately and since has left Egypt.

Propose NATO, Warsaw Accord

WASHINGTON (AP)—A nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Soviet-led Warsaw Treaty Organization was proposed today to the White House Conference on International Cooperation.

The conference's Committee on Arms Control and Disarmament, which made the suggestion in a report, also said that in the long run Communist China will have to be included in any system for international security and disarmament. But it added that "the long run can be very long."

The committee reported to the conference, which was called by President Johnson in support of the United Nations' International Cooperation Year. The report was submitted for discussion along with other conference papers concerned with keeping the peace.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told the conference's space panel Monday the United States vigorously supports the U.N. resolution against placing weapons in orbit around the earth and has set an example by reporting to the international organization every object it has sent into orbit. Other nations, he suggested, might follow this example and also might press for general observance of the antiweapons resolution.

The Disarmament Committee is headed by Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, a former presidential science adviser and present dean at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The committee said an agreement between the rival military alliances in Europe would recognize "that the situation in central Europe — including the situation in Berlin — can be changed only by mutual consent, not by force."

The committee also argued that the United States need not wait for better relations with mainland China before seeking agreements with the Russians on such things as reducing strategic forces or freezing nuclear stocks.

For years to come, the report said, such agreements could be "safely implemented while the Chinese continue their efforts to develop their own nuclear force."

But the committee said the United States should try to open bilateral talks with China on arms control, find out the conditions under which China might qualify for and accept the responsibility of U.N. membership, and support efforts to bring the big Communist country into a disarmament conference.

Woman Denies Charge

A Lake Katrine woman was arrested today on a disorderly conduct charge in connection with a dispute over access of Town of Ulster equipment to her property. Dorothy Mayer, 39, of Leggs Mills Road, denied the charge at her arraignment before Peace Justice Arthur Reilly and was paroled into the custody of her attorney for a trial at a later date. State police at the Lake Katrine substation said she was cited after a dispute with the township over access of a town-owned front end loader to the property. Troopers investigated.

MOSCOW (AP)—First Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev of the Soviet Communist party spent three days visiting in East Germany for talks "in an atmosphere of cordiality, fraternity and full unity of views."

Brezhnev returned to Moscow Monday. No reason for the trip was given in the official announcement.

Bride, 18, Dies Of Injuries in Highway Mishap

SIDNEY, N.Y. (AP)—An 18-year-old bride of one week died Monday of injuries suffered in an automobile-truck collision on Route 7 near this Delaware County village last Friday.

Mrs. Aaron Mowers, the former Susan Chalou of Caribou, Maine, was the most seriously injured of the four riding in the automobile.

Her 21-year-old husband of De Ruyter, Madison County, was discharged from The Hospital here after treatment for head cuts. His mother, Bernetta Mowers, 43, and sister, Marjorie, 15, both of De Ruyter, also suffered cuts. They were reported in good condition today.

Mowers and his wife were married in Caribou Nov. 22 and were on their honeymoon at the time of the accident.

Soldiers Report

brought here to the Cambodian capital Monday.

Captured in 1963

McClure and Smith were captured with two other Americans in a Viet Cong attack on a special forces camp outside of Saigon on Nov. 24, 1963.

One of the other Americans, Sgt. 1.C. Isaac Camacho of El Paso, Tex., escaped last July. The fourth captive was Staff Sgt. Kenneth M. Roraback. The Communists said in September they had executed Roraback and another American prisoner, Capt. Humbert R. Verace of Baltimore, Md., in reprisal for the execution of three Communist sympathizers by the Saigon government.

"I have known both sides," Smith said, "and the war in Viet Nam is of no interest to the United States."

"Had it been the Saigon government I would have been tortured," said McClure.

Says Morale Bad

Smith, asked about the morale of the South Vietnamese government troops, said government officers frequently ran away whenever there was a fight.

Smith said he was returning home "so Americans can see the light about the war in Viet Nam."

Both soldiers said they expected "harassment" when they got home.

McClure said the Viet Cong did not try to indoctrinate its prisoners. He said his captors gave him books to read and paper for his letters. He said he didn't do much work in the camp.

"The Saigon government is not the government of the people," said Smith. "I have seen South Vietnamese villagers who were ready to help the Viet Cong."

The two Americans said they chose to be repatriated through Cambodia rather than South Viet Nam because "Cambodia is at peace, contrary to South Viet Nam."

'Good Discipline' Helps

Also at the news conference was Le Van Diep, identified as a special emissary of the Viet Cong. He told the two Americans: "Your return to the United States is the prelude to the departure of American troops from South Viet Nam."

He said that "the good discipline of the two prisoners" played a part in the decision to free them.

There was no indication when the two Americans would leave Cambodia.

Weather can travel far. A storm over New York state may have originated at sea off Japan.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—A selling squall upset stock market prices and the list was sharply lower early this afternoon.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 5.29 at 941.64.

Losses ranged from fractions to 1 or 2 points among most leading issues although some of the higher-priced stocks lost as much as 3 points or so.

The market was mixed at the start with trading very heavy and a jumble of gains and losses. Blue chips were skidding and American Telephone faced renewed selling pressure as it sank to a new low for the year on a delayed opening block of 35,000 shares.

Chemicals, motors, utilities, electrical equipments, airlines and electronics were among groups joining the downtrend.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.1 at 352.2 with industrials off 2.2, rails up .4 and utilities off .9.

Losses of 3 each were taken from IBM and Polaroid (ex dividend) while Zenith, Boeing, Control Data and Xerox (ex dividend) were down 2 or more.

Buckingham Corp. opened late under an accumulation of buy orders prompted by stock-split news and the issue bounded ahead more than 2. Veeder Root, a 6-point gainer Monday on news of a tender offer from Giannini Controls, added another point.

Quotations by Wood, Walker & Company, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 63 Wall Street, New York City, branch office, 52 Main Street, Lowell S. Brooks, manager.

HOW COMMUNISTS SEE IT—Viet Cong generals think of the war area as Indochina as a whole. They consider North and South Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos as one political-military unit.

Describe Air War Lacking in Viet—men and arms would have been far greater.

Critics in the armed services and in Congress do not complain that hammering at communications lines obviously is not doing the job.

Want Wider Range

What they want is a wider ranging assault to knock out North Viet Nam's ability to sustain the aggression south of the 17th Parallel.

"To win a war, you have to destroy an enemy's will and his capacity to fight," said one military source. "We're not doing either in North Viet Nam."

Reports gleaned from diplomatic sources with contacts in Communist North Viet Nam are that the Communists can carry on with considerable hardship but no basic dislocation.

The U.S. fighter bombers are destroying much in the target area, these reports say, but the North Vietnamese are repairing their roads, patching up their railroads, fixing up damaged rolling stock, and either bypassing damaged bridges or getting them into usable shape.

Barred From Vital Targets

For the present, U.S. Air Force and Navy jets are barred from chopping at North Viet Nam's industry, the irrigation system so vital to her food supply, most of her power facilities, much of her petroleum supply.

Hanoi, North Viet Nam's capital and seat of much of her industry, and Haiphong, chief port of entry for seaborne supplies from the Soviet Union are off limits.

U.S. reconnaissance has spotted a buildup of antiaircraft defenses around both complexes, which would raise the price to the United States if Americans strike there.

American authorities are careful to stress that this country never has given any assurance that the industrial and port complexes would remain immune. But for now these officials believe any attacks on Hanoi and Haiphong would carry a high risk of triggering deeper involvement of Red China.

Economy Target

Officials have taken pains to underscore again and again that there is no desire to destroy North Viet Nam's economy.

It is estimated that only about 10 per cent of North Viet Nam's power capacity has been knocked out. Also, only a small segment of North Viet Nam's petroleum stocks have been destroyed.

Military experts say big oil supplies are stockpiled in the Haiphong area.

There are those in the armed services who strongly favor mining the approaches to Haiphong and establishing a blockade, arguing that it would be much better to prevent Soviet-built missiles from arriving than to knock them out after they are in place.

An estimated 50 to 60 ships arrive in Haiphong in a given week, many believed loaded with war supplies.

50 Bridges Disabled

What has the bombing accomplished? According to data available here, more than 50 bridges have been at least temporarily disabled. Some lead directly from Red China to Hanoi.

However, the policy of being satisfied with knocking out only one span of a bridge still is in effect.

U.S. authorities acknowledge that the North Vietnamese have been able to repair their bridges. As soon as the bridges are operative again, U.S. planes knock them out once more.

The railroad in North Viet Nam has been able to operate sporadically in sections.

Stand Still During Day

Intelligence reports indicate that road traffic is at a standstill during the day and is getting that way at night with an increase in night raids.

But U.S. experts concede that a relatively primitive economy like North Viet Nam's is not nearly so dependent upon lines of communication as is a highly developed nation like the United States.

Thus, if trucks can't move down North Viet Nam roads, the transport job can be handled by ox carts and even on the backs of men.

Another major target in the North has been ammunition depots. These are difficult targets to destroy, since the storage facilities are dug in. Still, about one-third of North Viet NAM'S national ammunition capacity is estimated to have been destroyed.

Barracks also have felt U.S. bombs and rockets, but some military sources said this type of strike has perhap been overdone. Most North Vietnamese military barracks are rather crudely constructed, with thatch roofing and may be easily replaced.

Losses on Par With Korea

With all of this bombing, the latest figures released by the Defense Department a month ago showed that Communist strength in South Viet Nam had risen by about 40,000 or so in the previous three or four months to 240,000, including regulars, irregulars and political agents.

U.S. experts say that the rate of U.S. plane losses in North Viet Nam is below that of World War II and about on a par with Korea.

Although the Pentagon shies away from using ratio figures, on the ground that this would help the enemy judge the effectiveness of their defenses, it is known that the current loss ratio over North Viet Nam is about three planes per 1,000 sorties.

According to Air Force records, the rate of combat losses in World War II was nine per 1,000 combat sortie. In Korea, it stood at about three per 1,000 sorties.

North Vietnamese radar-guided antiaircraft guns and their gunners have won the respect of American fliers.

The surface-to-air missiles — SAM — have not been as much of a problem as had been anticipated. Radar-jamming techniques are believed to have foiled the tracking abilities of some of the SAMs. Eight American planes are credited to the missiles.

Most of the enemy antiaircraft weaponry is made up of 37mm and 57mm guns. Less than half are radar guided.

Air officers deny that North Viet Nam's defenses are catching up with the offense.

So far, the North Vietnamese generally have kept their 50 MIGs out of nose-to-nose combat with U.S. planes, after inflicting some early casualties.

India Doubts . . .

dent among the Chinese troops on the Indian front. They push across the border with impunity.

Could Be Groundwork

One Indian expert on China said Peking's current campaign seems aimed at destroying the last vestiges of restrictions left over from the 1962 border war.

After that bloodletting, China unilaterlly announced demilitarized zones had been established along its frontier with India.

"Lines of control" were set up. The Chinese now have violated their own ground rules and obviously no longer consider them valid.

This, the Indians fear, may be groundwork for a new, serious attack — perhaps after the passes are clear of snow next spring.

List Prominent

Ulster County Republican leadership should not wait until next year to make a recommendation. The Plattekill supervisor suggested a meeting of all Republican supervisors, including the newly elected ones, be held with party leaders as soon as possible so party choice for chairman can be selected for the important job ahead.

Farmer Head to Quit

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — James G. Patton will retire next year as president of the National Farmers Union. He made a surprise announcement Monday night before the Minnesota Farmers Union convention that he was stepping down in March after 25 years in office.

Patton, 63, said he would reject any draft at the convention in Denver next March.

Says Extension Phones Reduce Needed Exercise

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Paul D. White, the noted heart expert, and a professional colleague came out strongly today against extension phones in the American home.

It is unwise, they advised, to pamper housewives with convenient conversation outlets all over the place — an extension phone saves steps, but it deprives the girls of exercise which helps to keep their hearts and arteries toned up and their hips trim.

Dr. White, the Bostonian who treated former President Dwight D. Eisenhower for his first heart attack, set forth with Dr. Henry D. Stebbins the case against the extension phone.

In a letter to the New York Times, they noted there recently has been a campaign to popularize multiple phone systems in the home with the slogan "save 76 miles with an extension phone."

The telephone company said it would have some comment on the letter later today.

Light Snow Dots

areas of the state were hit hardest Monday when schools and highways were closed in northern Chautauqua County.

Snow flurries swirled overnight, but the Weather Bureau said they would diminish during the day.

Slippery Spots

Temperatures generally were in the 20s and low 30s.

Some slippery spots were reported on state highways this morning. Hard - packed snow covered Route 81 south of Watertown and into Onondaga County.

The mercury fell below zero in the Dakotas and Minnesota and into the teens as far south as Alabama and Virginia.

The wintry temperatures maintained a heavy snow cover which blanketed portions of the Northeast during the weekend. Flurries continued from the Great Lakes region to the Appalachians and more snow fell along the eastern shores of the lower lakes.

Snow squalls earlier had dumped two feet of snow at Conneaut, Ohio, and heavy snow was reported in much of northeastern Ohio and northwestern Pennsylvania. In New York State, a foot of snow was on the ground in western areas and 16 inches in the north-central region.

Issues Warnings

The Weather Bureau issued warnings of a hard freeze tonight in Arkansas, northern Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky.

Readings early today ranged down to 17 degrees at Richmond, Va., 19 at Birmingham, Ala., 22 at Jacksonville, in northern Florida, and 24 in Atlanta. Roseau, Minn., reported 10 below zero and it was 7 below at Bemidji, Minn., and Aberdeen, S.D.

Light rain fell during the night and early morning in western Washington and parts of Florida. Gale warnings were posted for the Northwest coast as a new Pacific storm approached the region.

Suggestions Advanced For Enhancing Income

Q) "I am a 58-year-old widow and work only part-time because of poor health. I have $30,000 in savings and $7,500 in Series E bonds. My stock list includes Pacific Nortwest Bell Telephone; American Telephone; Sears, Roebuck; Polaroid; American Can; RCA; Long Island Lighting. I am in a tight squeeze for income and would like suggestions to increase yield from my stocks." S. R.

A) I am very sorry to learn of your poor health. I believe—since you mention no relatives or dependents—that you should ask a major life insurance company what you might receive from a straight life annuity. If you are not concerned with death benefits, such an annuity should bring you in a higher income than your savings institution provides. If you purchase this, I would retain at least $10,000 in savings for emergencies.

Solely for much higher income, I would switch Sears, Roebuck into Maytag; American Can into Atchison Rwy.; American Telephone into Libby-Owens-Ford Glass. Although the yield on Polaroid is virtually nil and the return on RCA is low, I would hold these issues which have shown very strong performance.

Q) "I am in a high tax bracket (50 per cent). My stocks, after taxes, yield very little and I would like to add some municipals. Do you think the downtrend in these has ended?" G. C.

A) I'm rather inclined to doubt it. Because of tight money conditions, all fixed interest securities have been working lower and the end does not yet appear in sight. Tax exempts now, however, are at their best yield levels in several years, and I believe selective buying is thoroughly justified, since you will be putting your money to work at a high taxable equivalent return.

I suggest San Francisco Bay Area Transit 3.30s of 1990, rated AA and selling to yield 3.50, equivalent to 7 per cent for you on a taxable security.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Cong Hits . . .

Communist North, while two air wings flew 399 attacks against suspected Viet Cong targets in the South. More than 200 structures, including fortifications, were destroyed within South Viet Nam, the spokesmen reported.

B52s Hit Camps

B52 bombers from Guam unleased their heavy explosives on three suspected Viet Cong camps in Binh Duong Province 40 miles northwest of Saigon. Results of the strike were not announced.

The target of the raid was a 2,000-man Communist force that knocked out South Viet Nam's 7th Army Regiment in a savage rubber plantation battle Saturday. Allied troops futilely combed the plantation area, bu the Communists apparently had pulled out after inflicting one of the major defeats of the war on the South Vietnamese.

A South Vietnamese spokesman claimed his government's troops killed 1,559 Communists and captured 70 last week while losing 240 killed and 135 missing in action. But this did not include the heavy lossts in the plantation battle Saturday.

On his arrival in Washington after a nonstop flight from Guam, McNamara told newsmen the rate of Communist infiltration has tripled with the number of men coming into South Viet Nam from the North up to about 4,500 a month.

McNamara said he thinks there are now nine regular North Vietnamese regiments in the South. This would be about 18,000 men based on U.S. intelligence estimates of about 2,000 men to a North Vietnamese regiment.

After winding up his talks with top military and political leaders in Saigon, McNamara said at a departure news conference that the United States will provide the men needed to wage the war. He also spoke of increases in the strength of the half-million-man South Vietnamese armed forces.

Although he said "we have stopped losing the war," McNamara expressed concern about the intensity of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese attacks and the heavy infiltration of troops and supplies by the Communists' jungle supply routes.

NcNamara's statement reinforced speculation that he will urge President Johnson to build up the U.S. force in Viet Nam from the present 165,760 men to 300,000.

Fire Hose Cut Says Yarmouth's Second Officer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The second officer on the Yarmouth Castle, which burned and sank with a loss of 89 lives Nov. 13, testified today that he found a fire hose mysteriously cut.

Staff Capt. Panigiotis Menagotus told a Coast Guard inquiry board that the cut hose was the first one he tried to use to extinguish spreading flames.

His testimony raised additional questions about the source of the blaze that struck the cruise liner on her voyage from Miami to Nassau, Bahamas.

George Vazeos, chief engineer, testified Monday that he saw strange light colored flames that appeared to be a blazing liquid. Chief Engineer William Dagner of the Bahama Star, which helped rescue 370 persons, testified "an eerie sound came from the fire, a sort of weird, howling sound."

It was reported last weekend that at least two federal agencies were investigating a surviving passenger who had in the past been questioned about two fires on his family's business property.

Ex-Red Commissioned

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The first North Korean officer to defect to South Korea, Navy Lt. Lee Pil-un, 32, was commissioned a lieutenant in the South Korean navy today.

Lee also received a special Seoul citizenship certificate from Mayor Yun Chi-yung.

OLD IDEA — Two 16-inch naval guns welded together form a new type missile launcher on a site on the Caribbean island of Barbados. A Canadian-American team will attempt to put a 50-pound capsule in orbit with the 118-foot gun, which already has propelled 185-pound payloads to heights of more than 84 miles. The idea of using a gun to fire an object into orbit was first suggested by Sir Isaac Newton in the 18th century.

Doe May Have Gotten Start On Yule List

KANE, Pa. (AP) — A deer strayed into a shoe store and a supermarket on the first day of deer season Monday.

Jose Grandinetti, owner of the shoe store, said a doe opened the front door by itself and scampered into the rest room at the rear of the store. He said he chased the animal out the back door.

The animal next entered a nearby supermarket by means of an automatic electric-eye door.

After sprinting down an aisle amid a chorus of screams from female clerks, the deer jumped atop a dairy case, scattering and crushing cartons of milk, eggs and cottage cheese.

Three hunters shopping in the sotre finally subdued the doe, carried it out and released it. They described it as "tired, but apparently healthy."

More Snow Spreads Over Scotland, England

LONDON (AP)—More heavy snow spread over Scotland and England today, piling up in massive drifts and bringing floods to the low sections of the midlands.

Gales in the Irish Sea and the English Channel kept the Liverpool-Dublin ferry in port and stopped flights between London and the Channel Islands.

Police in Yorkshire struggled through 14-foot drifts to get insulin to an 18-year-old diabetic girl stranded for three days in a country inn.

Conference Ends Today

American Republics Plan Sweeping Overhaul of OAS

By CLAUDE E. ERBSEN

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The conference of 19 American republics ends today after laying the groundwork for a sweeping overhaul of the inter-American system.

Chief U.S. delegate W. Averell Harriman said the meeting was "of historical significance." He said its most significant action was a proposal to incorporate into the charter of the Organization of American States the social and economic principles of the Alliance for Progress.

Favor Charter Changes

The conference early today approved by acclamation an "Economic and Social Act of Rio de Janeiro" containing a series of proposed amendments to the OAS charter. It is a companion to political recommendations approved Sunday.

Both will be submitted to another conference in Buenos Aires next July for incorporation into the OAS charter.

The act states that "it is essential to incorporate into the economic and social field of the inter-American system, as juridically binding, principles of mutual security, solidarity, cooperation and assistance."

The act provides a blueprint for a great society for Latin America.

It calls for more equitable distribution and better use of land, better cities, stable prices and an end to inflation, fair prices and access to markets for exporters, reduction in barriers to trade, and economic integration of the hemisphere with a Latin-American common market as the goal.

For the first time the more-developed nations of the hemisphere will have a binding obligation to aid their less-advanced neighbors.

The act also calls on all OAS members to refrain from carrying out any economic policy likely to affect another member adversely.

The act urges joint action to beat down barriers against Latin-American products abroad.

The political proposals approved Sunday are designed to strengthen the OAS machinery. They include annual inter American meetings and creation of political, economic and social, and educational and cultural councils for the organization.

Capitol News In Brief

News in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is told that Red China eventually must be included in any disarmament agreement.

The Steelworkers Union decides to stick with industry-wide bargaining.

And one-stop federal job hunting is on its way.

See Role for Peking

COOPERATION: A committee of the White House conference on International Cooperation said today that, in the long run, Red China will have to be included in any system for international disarmament.

But, the committee report added, "the long run can be very long." The comment came as the committee proposed a non-aggression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Soviet-led Warsaw Treaty Organization.

The committee on arms control and disarmament is one of 30 that will be reporting to the conference, which was called by President Johnson in support of the United Nations International Cooperation Year.

USW Sticks to System

LABOR: The Steelworkers Union apparently is going to stick with its 10-year system of negotiating with the 10 major firms that produce 80 per cent of the nation's steel.

The union reportedly was ready to quit industry-wide bargaining after the recent wage settlement hammered out under the watchful eye of President Johnson. After that settlement, union leaders met secretly and discussed negotiating with the companies one by one, in the manner of the Teamsters Union. USW President I. W. Abel has told union leaders: "The record shows that our industry-wide program really paid off."

LBJ Approves Agency

LBJ: A central clearing agency that will dispense federal job information in one sitting was approved today by President Johnson.

Under the program, isformation centers will be set up in 55 major areas. They will replace 684 boards of examiners, which each act for only one department or agency.

Capital Capsules

Anthony M. Rachal Jr., a 39-year-old Louisiana Negro, has been named to help the Civil Service Commission in its drive to insure minority groups equal training and advancement in federal jobs. A House Commerce subcommittee will begin hearings Dec. 15 on the massive power blackout that hit New York and much of the northeast earlier this month.

Capital Quote

Mrs. Lillian Kerley of Austin, Tex., teacher whose class is getting one of Luci Johnson's six hamsters: "If I remember my zoology correctly, the hamster popoulation increases very rapidly."

Alan Peck, 20, of 328 Broadway, paid $10 on each of two charges in city court today. A reckless driving charge was reduced to one of failure to keep right. The other fine was for lacking a rear plate light.
